Kosygin Blames U.S. for War

Cites Danger of Nuclear Conflict

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin blamed the United States today for the war and crisis in the Middle East and raked U.S. policy in a major speech before the U.N. General Assembly.

The session brought an indirect confrontation of the Soviet leader and President Johnson. Shortly before Kosygin spoke, Johnson appealed to all nations to shun rigid stands in the search for Middle East stability.

Viet, Cuba, Congo

Looking solemn, Kosygin walked slowly to the rostrum of the assembly to start a critical phase of this special emergency session. He began by excoriating American policy with regard to Vietnam, Cuba, the Congo and other areas. He said the situation in the Middle East could lead to thermonuclear war.

"No nation wants war," Kosygin said. "Nobody doubts that if a new world war started, it would inevitably be a nuclear one."

The Soviet leader said, "It should be taken into account that the continuing war in this area (Vietnam) is fraught with the terrible danger of escalating into a major military clash between the powers. This is precisely what the present foreign policy of the United States of America is fraught with."

Praise, Criticism

Kosygin praised the U.N. Security Council for achieving a cease-fire in the Middle East, but added it did not discharge its whole responsibility, since Israeli troops still occupy Arab territory.

"As long as Israeli troops continue to occupy territories seized by them and urgent measures are not taken to eliminate the consequences of aggression, a military conflict can flare up at any moment," Kosygin said. "That is why the Soviet Union took the initiative to convene an urgent meeting of the members of the United Nations General Assembly."

An hour earlier, Johnson had said that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered territory in the Middle East. The President urged a settlement by negotiations between the Arabs and Israelis themselves.

'Five Great Principles'

Speaking in Washington to a foreign policy conference of educators at the State Department, Johnson declared that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered Middle East territory, but he said peace in the area depended primarily on negotiations between the Arabs and Israelis.

Johnson laid down what he called "five great principles of peace" for the Middle East. These involved the rights of all nations in the area to exist, solution of the problem of Arab refugees from Israeli territory, the maintenance of international shipping rights in the area's vital waterways, an end to the Middle East arms race, and reaffirmation of the territorial integrity and political independence of all nations of the Middle East.

These principles, the President said, are fundamental for a durable peace in the Arab East.

Premier Kosygin, who listened to the television broadcast, arrived at the U.N. building shortly after the President finished speaking. The Soviet leader joined an array of Communist bloc chiefs on hand for the session.

Have Never Met

Officials in Washington anticipated Johnson and Kosygin would meet during the Russians visit but said no time or place has been set. The two leaders have never met.

Kosygin arrived from Moscow with a party of 66 a few hours before the emergency session began Saturday morning. He is living at the Soviet delegation's 12-story apartment house on New York's upper East Side and is expected to stay a week or 10 days. The U.N. session probably will last three weeks or more.

Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag, arriving Sunday night, said he would see Kosygin in New York soon and Johnson in Washington Friday and would urge the two to meet. He said the most serious Middle Eastern problems relate to Israel's borders, the Arab refugees and free access for Israel to the Gulf of Aqaba.

District 2 Figures Hottest Primary

Candidates for county legislators in Legislative Districts 1, 2 and 9 and the City of Kingston, will round out their campaigns today. Polls will be open on Tuesday from 12 noon until 9 p. m. for the nomination of candidates who will seek election at the general election in November.

One of the hottest contests looms in District 2 which comprises the Towns of Kingston, Marbletown, Ulster and Hurley. Seven candidates are seeking the Republican nominations, although only five will be successful.

The candidates are Lester Elmendorf and Richard Nace, Town of Ulster; Robert S. Kelder and Orvil E. Norman, Town of Marbletown; John E. Marquardt and Frank Miller, Town of Hurley and Douglas V. Dye, Town of Kingston.

Elmendorf, Kelder, Miller, Nace and Dye were endorsed by the Republican committees of the four towns in the district. Speaking on behalf of the five candidates, Elmendorf said, "We believe that the primary is the essence of democratic government, and that voters should use it to express their will. I am confident that the Committeemen's choices will make an outstanding team for the district, but the final decision as to who will be elected in November is up to the Republicans who go to the polls tomorrow. We believe that Republicans will support the experience, integrity and hard work which each of these five candidates represents."

Candidates seeking Republican nomination in District 1, which comprises the Town of Saugerties, are: Clifford Snyder, C. Freeman Lasher, William D. Brinnier, Peter M. Williams, Richard J. Luther. Four will be nominated.

District 9 Republican candidates are: Joseph Martorana, Eugene K. Noe, Frederick Pizzuto, Ralph Brach, Bryan White and Eugene O. Corey. Five will be nominated.

Running on the Democratic and Liberal party tickets in the City of Kingston are Irving Bell, Frank T. Fuscardo, Frank Nadspal, William F. Edulmuth, Donald E. Gregory, Joseph B. Scully, Daniel F. Smith, John F. Coffey, John J. Lucci and Orrie R. Riehl. Eight will be nominated.

Paper ballots will be used at the polling places tomorrow.

In other districts no contests are anticipated as candidates were named at the party conventions earlier this year.

Outlines 5 Points for Peace

Johnson Asks Troop Withdrawal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson declared today that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered territory in the wartorn Middle East but firmly linked the pullback to negotiations of a general Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

In a major statement of U.S. policy, the President dealt with the withdrawal of Israeli forces from captured Arab territory as a matter for negotiation along with the problem of Arab refugees, freedom of passage through international waterways, Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist and a limitation on the Middle East arms race.

"Certainly troops must be withdrawn, but there must also be recognized rights of national life—progress in solving the refugee problem—freedom of innocent maritime passage—limitation of the arms race—and respect for political independence and territorial integrity," Johnson said.

Negotiate Peace

The President added that a simple withdrawal of Israeli forces would "not be a prescription for peace but for renewed hostilities," unless accompanied by negotiations for a general peace settlement in the area.

Johnson spoke to a foreign policy conference of educators at the State Department. But his policy statement was set in the context of global debate with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, at a special U.N. General Assembly session in New York an hour or so later.

Johnson, laying down "five great principles of peace" for the Middle East, appealed to the nations there to shun another arms race, abandon "a diet of hate" and strive for a settlement.

"The world is watching," he said for the peace of the world is at stake."

The President's statement generally appeared to support what is understood here to be an Israeli position on troop withdrawals: That is, any agreement to withdraw Israeli troops from Egypt, Jordan or Syria should be linked to issues of vital interest to Israel, notably Arab recognition.

Johnson for the most part was careful not to name specific countries, but it was clear he was speaking of Egypt when he referred to the closing of the Straits of Tiran—an action announced by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser about two weeks before the fighting started.

"If a single act of folly was more responsible for this explosion (the recent war) than any other," Johnson said, "it was the arbitrary and dangerous announced decision that the Straits of Tiran would be closed."

Johnson, saying Israel and the Arab states must be the peacemakers, promised U.S. support for peace measures both through the United Nations and through methods.

"I offer assurance to all, the President said, "that the government of the United States will do its part for peace, in every form, and at every level and at every hour.

Evidently with a view to the Soviet-American confrontation—dramatized by Johnson's and Kosygin's personal declarations—the President referred to his efforts to improve relations with Moscow.

He spoke of cultural exchanges and similar agreements such as space treaty, and urged agreements to block the spread of nuclear weapons and prevent an antiballistic missile arms race.

He spoke of cultural exchange and have made great progress in enlarging the area of common action with the Soviet Union," Johnson said.

His personal appeal for "common action" with Moscow tackling the Middle East problems led into his statement on that crisis area.

It was in this statement that he outlined a set of five principles for a "durable peace" and then dealt specifically with the hottest current issue posed by the Arab states and the Soviets

Fatal Ellenville Fall

State and county authorities today continued investigation of the death of William James Anthony, 38, operator of the Busy Bee Tavern on Canal Street, Ellenville, who was killed in a fall from a second floor window of an apartment early yesterday.

Coroner Arthur C. Chipp, Kerhonkson, who investigated with Police Chief Abe Rand and BCI Investigators Michael Mahoney and Michael Bonney, withheld an official finding pending an autopsy later today.

Anthony, whose home address was listed as 3 Water Street, Ellenville, apparently had been sitting in a chair near a second floor window of a Canal Street apartment, when he toppled from the window.

Sergeant Otis Brown said Patrolman Roy Strouse was in a police car at a nearby corner at about 6 a. m., when he saw Anthony fall and land on his head on the sidewalk. The tavern proprietor was rushed to Ellenville Community Hospital by the Ellenville First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Anthony was pronounced dead at the hospital at 6:20 a. m. Chief Rand and BCI investigators were continuing the investigation in an effort to uncover details involved in the fall. The cause of Anthony's death was not determined and an autopsy report was awaited by investigators.

June Rainfall Heaviest At Cooper Since 1960

Area rainfall, to date, this month has been a bountiful water storage buildup and has aided in keeping the supply at Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir, to a safe reserve.

Precipitation up to June 18 in the Cooper Lake area, built up mainly by a series of heavy showers within the past seven days reached 3.81 inches. This is already far ahead of June, 1966 when the total for all of June was 2.18 inches. Kingston's rainfall total, to date in the month is 2.91 inches and that in New York City's Ashokan Reservoir area is 2.65 inches. In the latter area, the total was 1.60 inches in the past 24 hours.

Rainfall this month in the Cooper Lake watershed was the heaviest since 1960 when at mid-month the total was 5.10 inches and the month's total was 7.14. May of this year contributed 3.64 inches to the watershed area. June's area average is 4.28 inches.

Cooper Lake has been at capacity since Nov. 20, 1966, and when the local reservoir reaches the point of overflow, which it has in recent months, the excess goes to the New York City supply through a watershed intake and by an agreement which pre-dates the building of the Ashokan Reservoir.

$60,000 More for Downtown OK'd

Secretary Robert C. Weaver of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development today announced approval of a $60,000 grant increase for Kingston's Broadway East urban renewal project bringing the project total to $7,026,185 and locally it was announced that five more property owners in the downtown area have completed property rehabilitation.

The project grant increase will permit payments to qualified low-income owner-occupants of housing for the repair and improvement of their homes so that the properties conform to applicable codes or other requirements of the urban renewal plan.

This phase of the project was approved in January, 1965. A section of the Housing Act provides for assistance to cities undertaking projects for elimination of slums and blight.

Eric Hemphill, executive director of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, today announced that certificates for rehabilitation have been awarded to Mrs. Marianna Tatarzewski, 19-21 Jarrold Street; Mr. and Mrs. William Dougherty, 29-31 Jarrold Street; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox, 34 Stuyvesant Street; Miss Esther Heppner, 106 Newkirk Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Huston, 183 Murray Street.

These owners, Hemphill said, spent a total of $9,491 on rehabilitation. Two used urban renewal grant funds, two used a combination of loan and grant, and one used private funds exclusively.

Hemphill noted that the agency now has approved 10 applications for rehabilitation grants. They may be made to property owners in the Broadway East rehabilitation area whose income is $3,000 or less a year or whose housing expense exceeds 25 per cent of income.

Reported approved also are nine rehabilitation loans. These are made to owners who need financial assistance to complete rehabilitation work. They are at an interest rate of three per cent and are payable over a maximum period of 20 years. If required, an owner may borrow up to $10,000 per dwelling unit for rehabilitation work.

It was on last April 20 that the agency submitted application to amend the Broadway East Loan and Grant contract to increase the total grant by $60,000, and the KURA experienced no long delay in getting the approval as announced by Secretary Weaver, of the DHUD.

Hemphill noted that the agency now has five additional applications for rehabilitation grants and six for rehabilitation loans awaiting approval. He noted that they could now be approved because of the granted increase.

Full information on this phase of the downtown project may be obtained from Executive Director Hemphill, Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, 436 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y., 12401.

Hemphill noted that "Property owners in the Broadway East area continue to show a great deal of interest in rehabilitation of their properties." The rehabilition area is bounded generally by Delaware Avenue, Murray Street, Hasbrouck Avenue, Maple Street and the south side of Stuyvesant Street.

In it are some 110 properties to be bought up to urban renewal and city housing standards, and those interested in an early start are asked to contact the KURA office.

Uptown urban renewal problems are to be discussed Tuesday afternoon by members of the KURA, Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan, and other local officials who are to meet with Albert Bibby, assistant commissioner of the New York State Division of Housing and Community Development.

Office Skills Students Earn While Learning

The following is the third in a four-part series of articles on the work experience program at Kingston High School which is labelled one of the finest in the state. Today, Freeman staff writer Jean F. Dolan tells of the office skills phase.

By JEAN F. DOLAN
Third of 4 Articles

Although a smaller and more recent phase of the Kingston High School's business department work experience program, the office skills unit is fast becoming an accepted part of the local business scene.

Under the coordination of Robert Weber with Loryne Connick, business department head, as chief coordinator, office skills students have worked 53,430 hours in the past year, earning $93,181.50.

Eighty-five students have been doing part-time clerical and secretarial work with 25 enrolled in the IBM co-op program. In offices throughout the city, students get an opportunity to put clerical skills to work for grateful employers. Even the high school uses work experience students in its offices.

Seniors Chosen

Usually seniors are chosen to go into the field after a thorough classroom experience with the fundamentals of their trade. Available in class are the usual business machines as well as expert instruction in skills such as shorthand, typing and accounting.

Once on the job, they are given ample opportunity to put theory into practice whether it be in the office of doctor, lawyer or big industry.

One large industry cooperating with the program is IBM Kingston. Applicants for the co-op program undergo the same testing as secretarial hopefuls do when they apply for permanent jobs. From this group, students are selected for part-time employment in the secretarial department.

Here, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Brown of IBM, students are first trained in telephone technique, procedure, forms and the like. They are then used in a variety of secretrial and clerical posts throughout the plant, filling in where needed.

Realistic Experience

The aims of the office skills program are similar to the overall work experience program. Realistic experience which cannot be duplicated in the classroom is provided by the office situation. In addition to assisting local businessmen with staffing problems, the doubling trained student offers Kingston a core of young skilled office workers who are employable on a full time basis after graduation.

Just as a sidelight, the program in which employers periodically report back to the school offers evaluation of both individual student and the entire vocational business education curriculum.

Three basic courses are offered the fledgling business student. Clerical practice qualifies those participating in typing, basic business machines, stenocript, filing and other business office functions.

Bookkeeping and accounting program is designed to equip the student with a working knowledge of accounting theory and practice, and provide necessary bookkeeping skills for those who plan to enter business immediately after graduation.

Advance Course

Shorthand and Transcription is an advanced business course which provides additional preparation for Stenographic students, allowing them to develop and expand skills.

Learning on the job takes on a very personal bent as the student encounters actual office personnel and problems. The majority of students in the office skills phase are girls who soon find it necessary to adopt a different mode of dress in the business field. The mod look of the classroom must be modified for the office.

Some reactions of students, teachers and employers throw interesting human sidelights on the entire work experience program. These will be explored in the final article tomorrow.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 19, the 170th day of 1967. There are 195 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1819, the Savannah arrived in Liverpool, England, after the first Atlantic crossing by a steamship.

On this date—

In 1586, colonists sailed from Roanoke, Va., ending the first settlement of the English in America.

In 1934, the U.S. Congress created the Federal Communication Commission to regulate interstate communications by wire and radio.

In 1953, convicted spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were executed at Sing Sing Prison in Ossining, New York.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was welcomed in New York with the greatest ovation the city had ever given a hero.

Ten years ago — Japanese Prime Minister Nmbusuce Kishi arrived in Washington on a state visit.

Five years ago — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev threatened to sign a peace treaty with East Germany that, he said, would end the allied occupation of West Berlin.

One year ago — Peru's army claimed it had snuffed out a year-long campaign by Communist guerrillas to stir up an anti-government uprising in the Andes.

These days the word bargain has a familiar ring to it.

One of the biggest bargains you'll find anywhere is your telephone. You can do more with it, dial more people, get them faster than ever before. And despite these improvements in service, some telephone costs have actually gone down.

More than 40% of the New York State calls you paid long distance charges on ten years ago are now local calls. And since 1940, there has been an overall decrease in long distance rates.

That's why we say that when the telephone rings, it has the ring of a bargain. A real, lasting bargain. If talk is cheap, blame it on the phone company.

Guerrillas Repulsed, 45 Are Left Dead

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP — A hard-core battalion of some 500 guerrillas left 45 dead on a blackened battlefield today after failing to storm the bivouac of a U.S. armored cavalry force.

Attempting to smash into American positions just after midnight, the guerrillas were met by the heaviest guns in the U.S. arsenal—175mm cannon raining 200-pound shells on the attackers.

Military headquarters said eight men of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment were killed and 31 wounded in the savage one-hour battle about 40 miles east of Saigon.

Hit Steel Plant

It was the only significant ground action reported in the day's communique although there was scattered and occasionally sharp fighting elsewhere. U.S. warplanes kept up their heavy raids on North Vietnam with 130 missions Sunday, including strikes on Hanoi's rail supply lines, the showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant north of the capital and a surface-to-air missile site.

The American cavalrymen got a brief warning of impending attack when a small night patrol ran into a Communist recoilless rifle team. The U.S. patrol was evidently then surrounded by guerrillas heading for the main cavalry bivouac.

While the guerrillas of the hard-core 274th Viet Cong Regiment smashed at the U.S. line with recoilless rifles, .50 caliber machine guns and infantry assaults, the cavalry commander called for air and artillery support.

As American flareships lit the battlefield, a helicopter gunship strafed the Communists surrounding the isolated patrol. The 175mm cannon began to lay down a fire curtain barely 50 yards from the main American camp.

Within an hour the Viet Cong battalion pulled back into the darkness. The cavalry unit reported at daylight that 45 bodies were found and more had evidently been carried off in the darkness.

The cavalrymen also took 1 prisoners and picked up 1 weapons.

In the central highlands a in the Mekong Delta, Communist forces continued harassing mortar attacks against U.S. a South Vietnamese units. Ne Pleiku, in the highlands, a mortar attack on a 4th Infantry Division post wounded 15 Americans. In the delta mortar attacks were directed at militi outposts, inflicting light casualties.

Concentrate on Rails

In the air war, American pilots continued to concentrate on Hanoi's rail connections with Red China.

The Air Force communique noted that Hanoi's main northeast rail line has been heavily pounded on 12 of the past 18 days.

Although the weather was cloudy over much of North Vietnam Sunday, Air Force pilots from Thailand and Navy fliers from three aircraft carriers hit rail, road and river supply lines from north of Hanoi down to the border of South Vietnam.

Although one MIG21 was sighted, it made no effort to interfere with the U.S. raiders.

On the northeast rail line, pilots caught 20 boxcars on a siding at Thanh Quang and said all were damaged or destroyed by bombs and air-to-ground rockets. A warehouse along the tracks was badly shot up.

LANDING LINEUP—U. S. Army helicopters fall into line out of a tight formation as they approach a swampy landing zone near Phuoc Vinh, South Vietnam, in War Zone D. They brought in troops of the U. S. Army 1st Division for a new operation against the Viet Cong's 9th Division that reportedly moved from C Zone into D Zone. (AP Wirephoto)

Beating Reported by Jane's Child

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — How long Jayne Mansfield's 16 year-old daughter, Jayne Marie, will stay under protective police custody was left today to juvenile authorities.

The girl was taken to the juvenile facility with six other girls Saturday, and was not permitted to have visitors Sunday.

A policewoman, Sgt. Shirley Maxwell, said the Mansfield girl walked into the West Los Angeles police station Saturday and said she had been beaten and whipped with a leather belt by a male friend of her mother.

The actress' attorney, Samuel S. Brody, said police had no right to take young Jayne to Juvenile Hall.

A spokesman for the actress' child psychologist Murray Banks, said Miss Mansfield had been having "a severe disciplinary problem with her daughter" and that the actress had "administered corporal punishment."

Juvenile authorities ordered photographs of her alleged hip and mouth injuries.

Lift Vaccination

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas health officials have announced that visitors to Mexico no longer will be required to prove they had a recent smallpox vaccination before they can re-enter the United States.

Wiltwyck Damage

Five Teens Plead Guilty

Charged with disorderly conduct in connection with damage to golf cars and the golf course at Wiltwyck Country Club, five teenage youths, all members of well-known city families, pleaded guilty Saturday before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster.

County Investigator Harold T. Bowers said the youths involved in the vandalism were:

Charles Higgins, 18, of 115 Madison Avenue; John DeGasperis, 18, of 120 Harding Avenue; William Ball 3rd, of 346 Albany Avenue; Arthur Richard Lawrence, 18, of 11 Abbey Street, and Thomas O'Reilly, 19, of 122 Wilson Avenue.

The youths were accused of damaging golf cars and green No. 3 at the country club.

Bowers said after the guilt pleas were entered by the five youths, Judge O'Reilly imposed fines of $50, suspended a one year jail sentence, placed the defendants on probation for one year and ordered full restitution of $1,057.70 before June 28 or the suspension of the jail sentences will be revoked.

The week-long investigation, which resulted in the arrests, was conducted by Sheriff William B. Martin and Bowers assisted by Senior Investigator Edward Shannon, Investigator William Wiedemann, State Troopers Robert Mackey, Police Lieut. Lemuel F. Howard and Detective William Slover of the Kingston police.

The damage to the club property was discovered Saturday morning, June 10, by John Estey, superintendent of greens at the country club. Authorities were notified and investigation disclosed the golf car house had been entered and the intruders went swimming in the pool and ate hotdogs and candy which had been taken from a concession stand.

Three Hurt, 1 Cited in Crash On Thruway

Three persons were injured and a New Jersey motorist was cited by state police as the result of a two-car collision at 1:10 p. m. Sunday on the State Thruway about seven miles south of Kingston near mile post 83.8 at Rosendale.

Trooper John Ryan investigated and said the cars were operated by Janice Roberts, 18, of Saddle River, N. J., and David Sorensen, 30, of Montreal, Quebec.

Injured and treated at Kingston Hospital were Sorensen, who sustained multiple contusions and abrasions; Michael Malus, 27, of Montreal, who received a fractured left ankle and Elaine Malus, 26, also of Montreal who was treated at the hospital for abrasions of the lower lip.

Trooper Ryan reported Miss Roberts was driving south when her car crossed the mall and was in collision with the northbound vehicle operated by Sorsensen. She was cited for driving with unsafe tires. The summons is returnable later before Justice of the Peace Daniel McMonagle, Town of Rosendale.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 19, 1967

EMPLOYMENT HOLDS STEADY

There has been little change in the employment picture so far this year, despite the slowdown in the economy. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate in May of 3.8 per cent of the labor force, showed little change from the 3.7 per cent for the first four months of the year.

For one thing, there has been a continued slow growth in jobs in government and services. The expansion of female workers, which rose by 600,000 above the trend last year, has stopped.

Second, the number of job seekers has declined since the beginning of the year. Seasonal workers have failed to enter the labor force so far this year.

The slight change in unemployment was due to a decline of 44,000 jobs in manufacturing and construction. Strikes, chiefly in the rubber industry, accounted for most of the job loss in manufacturing.

The darkest part of the picture continues to be Negro unemployment. It stood at 7.8 per cent, about double that for whites. That emphasized once more the necessity to upgrade the unemployed by schooling and training to qualify them for available jobs.

Full employment is not beyond attainment in the present state of the economy, providing applicants are given the needed education and skills. Once that is done, most of the nation's social problems will be solved, for, with full employment, economic frustration will decrease if not disappear, relief rolls will be reduced to a minimum, and living standards will rise.

The Senate's passage of a measure to permit a variation of no more than 10 per cent between a state's most and last populous Congressional districts brings it closer to the one man, one vote concept. It would also reduce the effect of blatant gerrymandering.

Seven years before the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that segregation be ended in the nation's public schools, Joseph Cardinal Ritter ordered an end to racial segregation in the archdiocese of 600,000 Roman Catholics in St. Louis. He held out excommunication to any who dissented. His death at age 74 took the leader of liberal Catholics in this country.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

AN OCCASION FOR RENEWING OUR PRIDE

It was an enchanting evening. The occasion was a dinner in honor of His Majesty king Bhumibol Adulyadej of Thailand and his Queen Sirikit on the lawn of Gracie Mansion, Mayor John Lindsay's official home in New York City. A fireboat on the East River played columns of water against the backdrop of the glittering Triborugh Bridge, The King, himself a saxophonist, was treated to some of the most dexterous saxophone numbers imaginable. The air was soft, the champagne was good, and Victor Borge, the comedian and pianist, was at his funniest. But the real marvel of the evening was that doves were entrtaining hawks, and doing it as if they thoroughly enjoyed it.

It is no secret that Mayor Lindsay, in common with other big political figures in New York, does not love the escalated quality of the war in Vietnam. But the evening had a symbolic meaning. the Mayor was welcoming allies who are committed to wining in Southeast Asia. The speeches were by the King of Thailand, Prime Minister Harold Holt of Australia, and Mayor Lindsay himself. There was nothing political about any of the talks and toasts: King Bhumibol, having come in to Manhattan by helicopter, could only surmise that the Mayor must be a superman to govern the stone wilderness of New York; the Australian P.M. was full of pleasantries; the Mayor, with his memories of World War II, could only exclaim about Thai freedom and "Aussie" valor.

But offstage much of the conversation was about a contemporary war that was being most ably fought, and Victor Borge made the hit of the evening when he said he had just received a message that the Israeli army was about to enter the Connecticut Turnpike, and that he should be excused to go and welcome it. Was it fanciful to think that the Israeli-Arab confrontation had forced its logic on some of the doves present? Clearly, if the U.S. has given its guarantee, the promise should go for the Far East (Thailand, Australia) just as strongly as it does for the Middle East (Israel). Thanat Khoman, the brilliant and peppery Thai Minister of Foreign Affairs who has accompanied his King's party to New York, was saying nothing, but he could hardly have avoided speculating on the possibility that the Israelis had waked New Yorkers up to an old truth, that it is not good to take aggression lying down.

When I was in Thailand ten months ago I was impressed by the respect which the Thais, from their Foreign Minister on down, had for American power. Their only worry seemed to be over the fact — a crazy fact, to them — that some Americans doubted themselves. The Israeli success, while it was won by the Israelis alone, ought to cause some of those dubting American to rethink their position. For the Israelis had carried off their victory in the field because they had learned what it is the West's to give, the ability to harness and and coordinate machines to achieve an end that is decided upon, not by the machines themselves, but by the human spirit.

The Egyptians had machines, too. But they conspicuously lacked know-how. The Israelis, going back to Palestine in the Nineteen Forties and Fifties, not only took a Biblical dream of a reconstituted state with them but they also took a great practicality. They had men who knew what sparkplugs were for, and that tanks can't move if the oil supply runs out, and that the idea inculcated by western sport, that the best defense is a good offense, goes for war, too.

I can't believe for a moment that if the United States were really to apply itself to winning in Vietnam it couldn't bring that war to a close far short of the "ten years" that is mentioned by the pessimists. The age of colonialism is dead, and only idiots and Marxist fakers keep talking about it as if it were still a reality. But the West, in giving up on colonialism, does not need to feel apologetic about lending its technology and its fighting force to those who would reorganize the world in freedom.

The minute that Victor Borge, performing for the King and Queen of Thailand and the Prime Minister of Australia, paid his compliment to the Israeli adaptation of western capacities, the logic on Mayor Lindsay's lawn was plain: the West should forget its doubts and renew its old pride in what it can do.

The Roots of All Evil?

Henry J. Taylor Says

Rhodes Sees Nomination up for Graps

COLUMBUS—Party-powerful Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio thinks that if the Republicans have counted out Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the 1968 Presidential nomination they may have another count coming.

"I think it's up for grabs," he told me. And he sees how the lightning could strike Rockefeller, while Richard M. Nixon, for example, differs.

This is Nixon country. Nixon carried Ohio against candidate John F. Kennedy. Able Governor Rhodes is a close friend, admirer and long-time supporter of Nixon, and there was not an anti-Nixon word in his analysis. But he brings a Rockefeller nomination into the picture strongly—a man omitted in even Dr. Gallup's trial-heat polls.

Rhodes himself will go to the convention as a favorite son, as in 1964. This adds heavily to the power of the 25 Republican Governors in making their choice of the nominee decisive. In fact, 1968 will be a Governors' convention; and the Ohio combination of Governor Rhodes and Republican National Committee Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron is very formidable indeed.

Rhodes concurs with poll findings that Nixon's standing in the Central, Southern and Western parts of the party structure is far superior to that of Michigan Gov. George Romney. Every candidate always has a problem in politics. If Nixon has an image problem, Romney has a delegate problem. And it will be easier for Nixon to alter his image, which he seems to be doing, than for Romney to overcome the delegate problem, on which the nomination itself rests.

This column detailed Nixon's view on March 13, indicating that Nixon believes Rockefeller has not only taken himself out of the race by sincere and unequivocal proclamation but that his 1964 preconvention and convention stance fractures his national support in the party.

Whatever the reactions may be elsewhere, Romney, in turn, has certainly not caught fire in Ohio. That is damaging for a leader from an adjoining state. It clearly reflects on his regional strength. Romney appears largely dependent for his power base on the so-called Eastern Establishment. This, of course, means a dependency on Rockefeller.

Nixon and Rhodes, in common with most G.O.P. leaders I have talked with, share the assumption that the New Yorker would never go for Nixon—and certainly not for Gov. Ronald Reagan. Who can Rockefeller back if he does not back Romney? And his publicly his publicly stated enthusiasm for a Romney-Javits ticket is taken as a gratuitous signal.

But if Romney falters, what then for Rockefeller? This is where the inside speculation differs. Nixon seems to feel that Rockefeller and the Eastern Establishment would then turn to freshman Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy. Rhodes does not rule out the prospect of the convention turning to Rockefeller.

This is a million miles from a prediction. But it does have the force of at least reinstating the re-elected New York Governor in the mind of one of the party's most powerful men.

Any comparison in the convention between Percy and Rockefeller would inevitably bring up the contrast in experience, the nation's familiarity with them, and their relative power at least in respect to their control of their own delegations. The New York Governor will control his delegation absolutely—as will Governors Reagan, Romney and Rhodes—while Senator Percy's Illinois delegation, instead, is in the hands of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

In short, although both Percy and Rockefeller are widely opposed in the G.O.P., it is approximately the same opposition, and if either can somehow defeat it Rockefeller is in a greatly superior position to do so. Percy becomes merely a bright shadow.

In my view the missing element in the convention speculation is Governor Rhodes himself, especially in the event of a deadlock. Able, very able, attractive, still famous in athletic circles at 57, respected at all levels of the party and an immense vote-getter as proven in his re-election, the favorite son of the State of Ohio has few convention enemies, East or West, and more friends who believe he can successfully challenge President Johnson than have emerged in comments to date.

LBJ to Remain Cool

President to Await Word Before Contacting Kosygin

BY PETER LISAGOR
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON, June 16—President Johnson plans to remain cool and wary until and unless he hears from Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

The Russian leader, en route to an emergency meeting of the UN General Assembly in New York, has given no indications of a desire to confer privately with the President, according to admittedly puzzled administration sources.

The only communication between Kosygin and the United States, has been purely a routine one, the Soviet request for visas from the American Embassy in Moscow.

The dramatic announcement that Kosygin himself would head a 50-man Soviet delegation to the General Assembly drew from the White House only the terse statement that Mr. Johnson would be "Happy" to see the Russian leader.

But the President had no plans late last night to initiate a contact with Kosygin or to risk a rebuff by extending an invitation to him to come to Washington or to his Texas Ranch, where he planned to spend a long weekend conferring with Australian Prime Minister Harold Holt and awaiting the birth of a grandchild.

Diplomatic officials said that all indications from the U.N. point to a Kosygin effort to accomplish in the General Assembly what Moscow failed to get in the Security Council, a condemnation of Israel for alleged aggression and a resolution demanding its withdrawal to the positions occupied before the war broke out on June 5.

They did not rule out the possibility that if enough other heads of government joined Kosygin in New York, the President might feel compelled to address the General Assembly, as President Dwight D. Eisenhower did in 1960 when then-Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev of the U.S.S.R. led an array of world leaders to the U.N.

At the moment, however, the President is understood to feel that he is not obliged to add his presence to a patent Soviet attempt, not to search for peace but to mount a propaganda campaign in support of the Arab state defeated in the short-lived war.

Diplomatic informants described the Kosygin visit as an "astonishing" investment of Soviet prestige in a campaign that can salvage little more than minimum prestige from the debacle suffered in the Middle East War by the Soviet-Equipped Arab military forces.

They were puzzled that the Kremlin would virtually endorse an American ploy of using the general assembly in a situation in which the Security Council was powerless to act. Until now, the Soviets have strenuously opposed the "Uniting for Peace" resolution empowering the Assembly to authorize actions that any permanent member of the Council could veto.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg spent Wednesday evening here at a meeting of the special committee of the National Security Council sorting out administration attitudes on the prospect of a General Assembly session. The decision was then taken to oppose such a meeting unless a majority of the member nations favored it.

The feeling was that Washington needed a good deal more preparation to develop a policy that would apply to the whole range of problems created by the war and those that existed before the conflict.

Goldberg reportedly told the meeting at the White House that the Soviet delegation at the U. N. appeared to be in turmoil and confusion as they scouted ways to recover their poise and prestige.

Why Hasn't a Woman Been Named to High Court Post?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 19—Theoretically, when a vacancy occurs among the nine justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, the President should ask the American Bar Association and the governors of the states to give him privately the names of two or three persons who are best qualified for that office. Instead, one name is submitted to the Bar Association by the Department of Justice for each vacancy, to ascertain if there is anything unfavorable that can be cited. Before making his selection, a president nowadays looks around for a man of integrity and ability who happens also to be suitable politically — but the country rarely gets the best-qualified men with judicial experience.

However satisfactory the record of Thurgood Marshall, the new appointee, may be, the President could have found at least a dozen men on the federal bench who are better equipped to sit on the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Johnson, of course, knows what the political customs are. To satisfy blocs of voters, there apparently has to be on the high court representatives of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths. It used to be that presidents took account also of geographical factors and tried to equalize the number of justices from different parts of the country.

Significant as is the appointment of "the first Negro" — as the headlines have emphasized — to membership on the Supreme Court, many people are asking why no Negro was appointed before. An even more pertinent question is: Why hasn't a woman been appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States?

There are many women who have served on the bench in federal and state courts, and have made excellent reputations. Women have been elected as governors and to the Senate and the House of Representatives, and have made notable contributions to public service. About 35 years ago, Francis Perkins became the first woman member of the President's Cabinet. If the failure heretofore to appoint a Negro has been a discrimination, it may also be argued that the absence of a woman on the highest court is a kind of discrimination, too.

Thurgood Marshall was for many years general counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and played a leading role in winning the schol-desegregation cases before the Supreme Court in 1954. He also served on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for three years before coming to the Department of Justice as Solicitor General in 1965.

While Mr. Marshall will doubtless be confirmed by the Senate, the real concern among lawyers is not related so much to his possible participation in cases involving "civil rights" as to the question of whether he will veer toward the group on the court which believes in an unwritten constitution rather than toward those who want to preserve the constitution as written.

This same issue has been plaguing the Supreme Court since President Franklin Roosevelt, thirty years ago, sought to have the membership of the high court enlarged so as to enable him to appoint men who would sit with his views on public questions. While the "court-packing" move was defeated in the Senate, Mr. Roosevelt had an opportunity later, as vacancies occurred, to name to the Supreme Court nine justices, at least five of whom were of his own school of thought. Since then there have been some exceptions, but for the most part appointees have come from the ranks of those who believe that the constitution can be rewritten at will by the Supreme Court.

Persons who Thurgood Marshal's philosophy think he will furnish a surprise an will be found in the middle-of-the-road category. His decisions inevitably will attract a lot of attention.

Unfortunately, there are many who feel that Mr. Marshall was appointed solely because of his color and that the president, in effect, "discriminated" against some white men at present on the federal bench who might have been chosen. But if there is "discrimination," the realistic fact is that in the entire history of the Supreme Court of the United States, no woman has ever been appointed. The women eligible to vote outnumber the men. Maybe they just haven't "demonstrated" enough!

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The boat came upstream slowly and sedately, the mate, Frank Sachetti, tossing bait overboard from the main deck. Away We Go IV seemed listless after a day at sea, lifting slowly on the long groundswells, hiding momentarily in the troughs. The skipper, on the flying bridge, squinted against the late sun, his mind at slow speed synchronized with the engines.

It had been a bad day. The yardarm was flying a skunk pennant, showing that the crew had caught nothing. The men had eaten cheese and liverwurst sandwiches and drunk beer so cold it made the throat ache. They had watched the sagging polyethylene lines and had gone back into the cabin to eat more sandwiches.

The sun had been bright and new on the way out and a man in a speedboat, trailing skiers' towropes, had gunned his engines and cut across the bow of Away We Go and almost caused a collision. The skipper killed his engines in time, and the man had yelled: "Slow down. I have two kids in the water back there." The captain said: "It's against the law to ski here." The man in the speedboat yelled: "I happen to be a lawyer." The skipper had yelled back: "Not for long."

At sea, the skipper had a habit of studying the horizon every 15 minutes for squalls. He thought he saw a small one. It was a boat on fire. He got on the ship-to-shore phone and heard someone calling "May Day. May Day." A boat in the water is a small complete world unto itself. When it catches on fire, or hits an object, the minuscule universe dissolves under the boatman's feet.

It required 20 minutes to reach the burning boat. Others were standing by. Three men and two women were on a rescue cruiser in blankets. They watched their boat send a greasy apostrophe into the blue sky and disappear. Twelve minutes later, the Coast Guard Search and Rescue helicopter arrived. It was too little too late.

The skipper went about checking his own safety equipment. The life packets were on the deck astern. The 10-man raft was on chocks forward. The Kidde automatic fire fighting equipment had been tested this year. The flame arresters and vents were working. Still, he felt shaky and there was no joy in the summery sun.

Eight million boats are on American seas, rivers, and lakes. Nobody needs a license to run a boat. A boy or girl of 14 or less can give a speedboat the gun without knowing why, or even where. The 50 states refuse to get together to license pilots of small boats, and the marinas that rent boats feel that they will lose business if a pilot must submit to a "road" test.

Admiral Willard J. Smith, Commandant of the Coast Guard, wrote: "In their haste to enjoy the thrill of skimming over our nation's abundant and beautiful lakes, streams and waterways, many boating enthusiasts also skim over the rules of water safety." The situation is worse than that. There are four sets of marine laws in the U. S., where there should be one.

Most boatmen acknowledge no law except "get out of my way." The credo is: "Gas up and gun it." A priest who admitted he knew nothing of sailing had taken a boatload of nuns in heavy habits out on a lake. The skipper had shivered, watching the boat heel. When it got back safely, the priest said: "I knew God would help me." God is expected to do a multitude of minor chores.

The skipper was thinking about these things, and of all the friends he had who combine boating and boozing, and he wondered if perhaps he wasn't the true pain in the neck. Wally Lehman cleaned the galley and came topside to get a breath of breeze. He pointed to a sleek blue and white outboard coming down the other side of the waterway.

"Isn't that a beauty?" he said. It was. It was 24 feet of fiberglass and twin outboard-inboards. The young man at the helm was going so fast the ladies in the back had to cup their hands and shout to each other over the roar of the engines. Life was exhilarating; a joy.

The small boat was almost abreast of Away We Go IV when it hit a submerged piece of timber. The port engine flew up and the starboard one turned the zippy roadster across the stream. It stopped directly on the bows of Away We Go.

The skipper's eyes popped like peeled hardboiled eggs. He threw both clutches in reverse and watched his craft inch toward the little boat. The women stood, faces drained of expression. The white bow hit behind the windscreen. Glass tinkled. The little boat rocked to port.

"Okay," the young man yelled. "My fault. I hit something. Not much damage. I'll be seeing you." He gunned the boat and the women fell down. The skipper studied his molasses-colored hands. "Take the wheel, Wally," he said. "I just lost my nerve."

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The efficiency and quick-reaction ability of Israel's army raises doubts about some of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's military cost-effectiveness methods.

These doubts are especially pertinent at this time when McNamara is again attempting to remodel the Army Reserves.

The Israeli army that performed so well against Egypt was largely an army of reservists. Israel's standing army was only 80,000 men. The 200,000-man army that swept into Egypt and Jordan was almost two-thirds citizen reservists, 120,000 of whom, were mobilized from their civilian jobs and in action in a few days.

These reservists thus served immediately as integral parts of the Israel combat forces and, in fact, formed the bulk of the combat troops.

In the Israeli army there is no differentiation of status between reservists and professional soldiers, reports one U.S. Army officer with astonishment. Professional officers are obtained from the ranks.

Israeli draftees are called in at age 18. Then, after 26 months of service they go into the reserve where they have 31 days of active duty a year, plus an extra day a month for special training or security duty. This goes on until age 39. Then, from 40 until age 45, the reservists have 14 days of active duty a year. Reserve officers have even more training.

Israel's reserve officers, noncommissioned officers and enlisted men thus are technically and tactically up-to-date.

Their reserve training is intensive. Promotion standards are rugged.

One U.S. officer reports "mobilization exercises are held frequently and all units can be assembled, equipped and moved out, ready for combat, in less than 48 hours.

"Equipment for each reserve unit is maintained in such a state of readiness that the unit can perform its wartime mission immediately uuon assembly."

Thus up to 250,000 men can be mobilized, equipped and ready for combat in a few days.

Pentagon plans call for some U.S. units to be ready for field combat in weeks—some in months.

McNamara regards the reserves, even the technical and specialized reserves, as a last resort.

Most reservists are sincere, conscientious men who want to do a job. But more than half of McNamara's Army reservists are given neither the training nor the equipment to keep up with their specialties. In fact, about half of the Army reservists aren't even in units. They're in a "pool" or in the Standby Reserve.

Under McNamara's newest Reserve revision plan, most combat veterans likely will go into this pool, where their military skills will gradually deteriorate. Most will not keep up their military specialties. Few will keep up with technical advances.

This is not fair to the loyal Reserve officers, noncommissioned officers, enlisted men or to the country. The case of Israel shows that this need not be so.

New Yorkers Show Well In Viet War

SAIGON, N.Y. (AP) — New Yorkers were well represented among the Air Force and Navy pilots who blasted various targets in North and South Vietnam Saturday.

Air Force Maj. Robert J. Lines, 37, of Tupper Lake, N.Y., was among the F105 Thunderchief pilots executing a raid on the Mo Trang railroad yard 39 miles north of Hanoi. Lines said the tracks were cut and pilots saw three large secondary explosions.

Navy Cmdr. Paul Gilcrist of Freeport, N.Y., led a flight of F8 Crusaders in an attack on an anti-aircraft site just north of the demilitarized zone.

Gilcrist said, "we put everyone of our bombs down on the gun sites."

Navy Cmdr. Richard Seymour of Syracuse, N.Y., was among the flight pilots in A4 Skyhawks that hit the Phy Cu rail siding 15 miles south of Thanh Hoa.

"Repair work had been done there," Seymour said, "so we busted it up again."

Navy Lt. Cmdr. William B. Kirkconnell of Bay Shore, N.Y., flew with a flight of F4 Phantoms that wrecked the Ha Chanh highway bridge 30 miles northeast of Haiphong.

"When we pulled off, the bridge was down," said Kirkconnell.

Air Force Capt. Monte D. Montgomery, 33, of Newburgh, N.Y., was aboard one of three CH47 a "Puff the Magic Dragon" gunships that pumped 65,700 rounds of am7munition into suspected Viet Cong positions in the Mekong Delta.

"It's 'Ronnie Baby'! Please don't tell me you've been calling the governor of California!"

Slate Hearing In Woodstock Tuesday on Wells

The Water Resources Commission of the N. Y. State Department of Conservation has slated a public hearing Tuesday in the Town Hall of Woodstock to determine whether water wells already built are justified.

Robert A. Cook, secretary to the water commission, said that because the wells were constructed without a public hearing, about two years ago, the construction was "technically illegal."

The wells were built during the administration of former Woodstock Supervisor Abram Molyneaux and were constructed at a cost of over $60,000.

It was reported at the time that the wells were a result of an "emergency drought situation."

In a legal notice published in The Freeman it was pointed out that "those persons who may be effected by ratification of past acts of the Town of Woodstock in acquiring an additional source of water supply . . . . by the installation and development of several wells . . .", including the "Streamside Terrace real estate subdivision" are requested to attend the hearing.

Cook said it was "general procedure" to hold such a hearing "no matter how delinquent" the case.

According to Cook, someone had to make an application for such a hearing but it could not be determined who, in fact, did request the hearing.

The hearing will be at 11 a. m. at the Woodstock Town Hall.

Johnson Asks . . .

—withdrawal of Israeli troops from conquered territory.

"There are some who have urged, as a single, simple solution, an immediate return to the situation as it was on June 4," Johnson said. The war started on June 5 and in the next week Israel overran sections of Egypt, Jordan and Syria which it holds under the present ceasefire.

Johnson said that a simple withdrawal of the Israeli forces —though he did not mention Israel by name—would be "not a prescription for peace but for renewed hostilities," and added "there must also be recognized rights of national life—progress in solving the refugee problem—freedom of innocent maritime passage—limitation of the arms race—and respect for political independence and territorial integrity."

Johnson also called for aid to Arab refugees and again urged political independence for the Middle East states.

Stokely Jailed In Atlanta as Tensions Mount

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—"Black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael, arrested along with four other Negro men at the scene of two nights of racial tension, spent Sunday night in jail rather than post $50 bond.

He and the others face charges of failing to move at an officer's direction. They were arrested in the predominantly Negro Dixie Hills section where small racial flareups had occurred two straight nights.

The four, who posted $25 bond each and were released, were identified by police as Donald Stone, Ernest Stephens, Charles Usher and Johnny Burkes. All listed Atlanta addresses.

Police said Carmichael, wearing bathing trunks and a sweatshirt with the late black nationalist leader Malcolm X's picture on it, was arrested when extra police were called to disperse a rapidly growing crowd.

Search for Two Missing Planes

Civil Air Patrol officials said today that search for a missing Connecticut plane with two men aboard, and a Canadian plane missing on flight to Philadelphia was being hampered by bad weather.

A single-engine Beachcraft Bonanza left Carterville, Quebec Sunday for Philadelphia. The flight plan would have taken it over the Hudson River area. The CAB said three, or possibly four, persons were aboard. The pilot was identified only as G. Boisbert.

Major Andrew Veith of the CAP at the Poughkeepsie Airport, the base of the plane search in this district, said no trace of the twin-engined Piper Aztec which disappeared last Tuesday on flight from Albany to the Ulster-Kingston Airport, had been found.

Richard Johnson, 27, of Branford, Conn., and Roy Steelman, 24, of Guilford, Conn., were aboard the plane owned by New Haven Airway Charter Service.

Major Veith said while bad weather continued locally, three aircraft from North Adams, Mass., were searching in that area. Veith reported that ground teams checked the Shokan area and found wreckage of a military plane that had crashed in the 1940's. Planes at Poughkeepsie were grounded.

Clay Arrives As Trial Begins

By LAWRENCE LEE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Cassius Clay sang, "You Make Me Feel so Good," today as he arrived at the federal courthouse for his trial on a charge of refusing to be inducted into the armed services.

He also prompted laughter when a bailiff asked spectators in a corridor, "Are there any more jurors?"

"I'd like to serve on the jury," Clay said.

Conviction of the 25-yea-old fighter could bring a 5-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Clay declined to talk with newsmen as he walked through the lobby.

Clay went into a conference room as the baliff assembled the prospective jurors in the small courtroom of Judge Joe Ingraham.

The teleprinter came into use in the mid-1920s. The device makes telegraph transmission practically instantaneous.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's armed forces newspaper says China's first hydrogen bomb was exploded one month early as a gift to Chairman Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution.

"Some of the officials concerned were gripped by anxiety and unable to tackle difficulties involved in the test" and warned against "undue haste," the Liberation Army Daily said.

But "the revolutionaries, rereading quotations of Communist Chinese party Chairman Mao Tse-tung decided to test the bomb early and make it a gift to the cultural revolution," it said.

"Thus they worked day and night and finally succeeded in drawing up the blueprint a month earlier than scheduled. They put the blueprint into shape fragmentarily without waiting for the completion of the whole parts."

The announcement of the Chinese blast Saturday drew no comment from the Soviet Union and was given only one paragraph in Moscow Sunday papers.

Defense Department officials in Washington said the test has not changed the Pentagon's belief that China will not be able to launch a nuclear attack on the United States for about eight years.

Japanese military experts, however, say the Chinese appear to have a number of bombs ready for testing and in transportable form. The blast was interpreted by some Japanese commentators as an implied threat to Japan, which has no diplomatic relations with Red China.

Nuclear debris from the Chinese test was expected to begin falling on Japan today. Two daily flights of planes are to collect fallout dust in western Japan.

The blast was expected to strengthen Mao's hand in his campaign to oust President Liu Shao-chi and his supporters. The Peking communique announcing the explosion said it "greatly heightens the morale of the revolutionary people, and greatly deflates the arrogance of imperialism, modern revisionism and all reactionaries."

The bomb was reportedly detonated in the border province of Sinkiang, which has been ruled by Wang En-mao, a district military commander who reportedly opposed Mao. At one time Wang was reported to have threatened to blow up the nuclear facilities in the province, but the test explosion apparently means Mao's forces have the area under control.

Mayor Lists Anti-Burglary Week in City

The week of June 18-24 has been proclaimed by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan to be "Burglary Prevention Week" in Kingston.

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy has underlined some of the preventative safeguards that may be taken during a season of the year when families leave their homes for vacation trips and weekend outings.

Chief Murphy points out that a stroll through one's neighborhood on any day will demonstrate who is away: their porches will be cluttered with circulars, there will be an accumulation of milk bottles on the stoop, an unkept lawn, an empty garage with the doors open, a bulging mailbox.

In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted too because of the lack of lights.

Besides the installing of an automatic timing device connected to one or two lamps — that will leave the impression that someone is home — the Chief lists several precautions for thwarting burglars: Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances and safety latches on the windows; protect all doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglary alarm which sounds whenever someone attempts to break-in; light up your porch and yard with outdoor lights to increase the likelihood that an attempted burglar would be seen; be sure all screens are fastened from the inside; never leave valuables lying around.

Chief Murphy also suggests homeowners who are leaving for a weekend or longer to notify police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away; cancel all deliveries, such as milk, laundry, cleaning, etc. Also, be sure to discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address; have a neighbor, or your post office, hold all mail until your return; arrange with a friend to mow the lawn and sweep your sidewalk once a week. Also ask him to pick up any circulars or handbills that may be left on your porch; leave your shades and blinds as you normally do: never advertise your departure with an item in the local newspaper.

"There is no such thing as a burglar-proof home," said Chief Murphy, "but," he went on to say, "following the suggestions listed above will help to protect your home whenever you're away."

Questions, Answers on Federal Tax

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I filed for my refund a month ago. Isn't it about time I received it?

A—No, it is still too soon. Look for the refund to arrive anytime after the first of June. Some returns filed at the deadline may not be processed completely till the end of June. If your return is incomplete or contains an error, processing will take longer. There will also be a delay if the return is selected for audit before the refund is issued.

Q—My daughter is working as a sales girl this summer to earn money for college. If she makes more than $600 will I lose my dependency deduction for her?

A—If your daughter is under 19 or is a full-time student you will not lose your dependency exemption for her just because she earns $600 or more during the year. As long as the other dependency tests are met you may continue to claim her.

If she does earn $600 or more, or has taxes withheld, she must file her own return.

Q—I won the $75 prize given each year to the outstanding history student. Is that taxable for me or my parents?

A—Unless you had to perform a specific action to win the prize, such as write an essay or give an address, the prize would not be considered taxable.

Q—I just opened a gas station and have to file employment tax returns on which I must show an employer identification number. Can I use my Social Security number as my employer identification number?

A—No. If you are liable for business taxes you must obtain an employer identification number even if you have a Social Security number. Your Social Security number should be used on your individual income tax return and not on business tax returns.

To get an employer identification number use Form SS-4 available at local IRS and Social Security offices. This number must be shown on all business returns as well as Schedule C of your individual return.

Q—I've been asked to bring in my records on charitable deductions. I made some sizeable cash gifts last year. What can I bring to prove these?

A—A statement from the receiving organization which indicates the amount and date of the gift and identifies you as the contributor will be helpful in substantiating the contribution.

Q—I think a mistake was made in my refund check. Who do I write about it?

A—Write to your IRS Service Center for an explanation. Please be sure to give your full name, address and Social Security number so that your return can be identified.

Whenever a change is made on a return that affects the amount of tax due an explanation is sent to the taxpayer. Evidently this was misdirected in your case.

Q—Do you have to pay Social Security taxes for a man hired to cut the grass and take care of the yard?

A—You do if you pay him cash wages of $50 or more during a calendar quarter. The wages should then be reported and the tax paid using Form 942.

Circular H, Household Employer's Social Security Tax Guide explains these requirements. District offices should have copies. The next quarterly return and payment is due July 31.

Christian Refers to Way of Life

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY:: Why do people who write to you say: "Mary is a good Christian woman"? Or "John is a good Christian man"? I am a good woman, too, but I am not a Christian. I'm Jewish. To be a good person, do you have to be Christian? JEWISH

DEAR JEWISH: No "Christian" when used to describe the virtues of a person, does not necessarily refer to his religious beliefs, but rather to his way of life. One who lives according to the teachings of Christ, need not be Christian. No Jew should take offense. After all, wasn't Jesus a Jew?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I doubt if there is much that would astonish you, but this might be a first. I've never written to an advice columnist before, but you are my last hope, and I have nothing to lose.

My husband was in the service overseas and I was with him. Nearly two years ago, without my knowledge, he volunteered for civilian duty (AID) in Vietnam.

He quietly departed from our post overseas, leaving me with insufficient funds by any standards. My allotment checks stopped for over 10 weeks, so I remained where he had been stationed, got a job and supported myself. He ignored me completely, and all efforts to reach him failed. After a year I decided to return to the United States and take legal action.

As my husband figured, he was out of my reach. Legal papers sent to the embassy in Saigon for service on him were not served. In desperation a friend (lawyer in Washington, D. C.) contacted the State Department. He received and sent me a copy of a FINAL DIVORCE DECREE, issued in California in January of 1967!

I had never received any notice that I was being divorced. The entire action was done by publication in a California newspaper at a time when I was still overseas on my husband's official orders, and my whereabouts well known to my husband.

The lawyers here cannot understand how a senior state department officer can walk out on his wife, get a divorce without her knowledge, and avoid legal action.

I am 45 and have always conducted myself properly. What would you do? PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: With all due respect to your lawyer friend, if I were you I would get another lawyer.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. I. JOE KING IN THAILAND: I know you don't need another letter, having been advised that after I published your plea for mail for lonly G. I.'s in Thailand you received upwards of 150,000 pounds of letters. (Can that be right?) But did you see the following poem which appeared in Mat Weinstock's column in the Los Angeles Times:

I searched and found one Joseph King
It made near delirious.
'Cause when I asked, "Are you Joe King?"
He said, "Why no, I'm Serious."

Governor Names Van Ness Head Of Health Plans

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An executive director and an associate executive director have been named to head the state's 85th commission — the newly formed State Health Planning Commission.

Gov. Rockefeller appointed Sunday a former staff member, Edward H. Van Ness of New York City, to the $28,000-a-year executive-director post.

Rockefeller also named Paul F. Robinson of Schenectady at a salary of $13,080 a year.

In another action, the governor announced that Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, former state health commissioner and a professor of public health at Columbia University, will be executive secretary of the commission's advisory council. Hilleboe will serve on a part - time basis, without compensation.

The new commission, established by order of the governor, will coordinate planning among government, voluntary and private health organizations, including hospitals, nursing homes and other institutions.

Van Ness is a former special consultant to the State Health Department. He was program associate in health, social welfare and other social - related fields in Rockefeller's office from 1961 through 1966.

A graduate of the College of St. Thomas, River Forest, Ill., Van Ness was associate director of the Government Executive Program at New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration from 1959 to 1961.

Robinson has been in state service since 1948. Most recently, he has been executive secretary of the Interdepartmental Health and Hospital Council, now supplanted by the Health Planning Commission.

The other 84 commission range from The Albany Port District Commission to the Youth Commission.

Burglars Get Outside Help In $8,000 Haul

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Burglars who took $8,000 from a supermarket safe Sunday in plain sight of passersby were aided by a walkie talkie-equipped lookout and the sun, police theorize.

The target of the thieves was the Super-Duper Market at one of this city's busiest intersections. The safe was screened to the outside only by glass doors and windows.

Police said an acetylene torch was used to cut a 5½-inch square hole around the safe's lock so that it could be tripped from the inside.

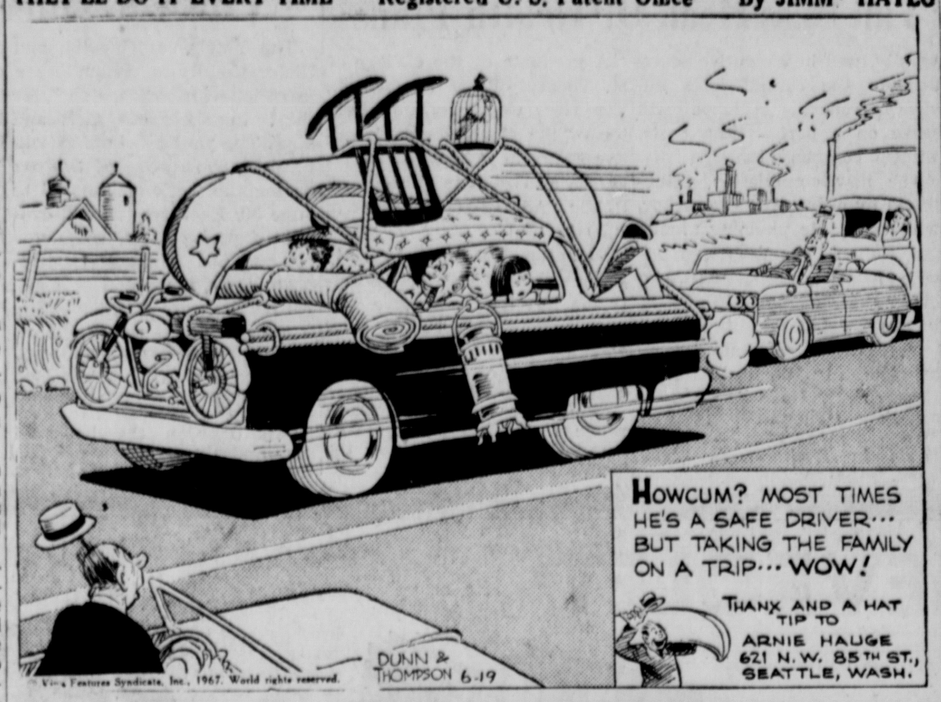

Early-morning sunlight glaring against the doors and windows helped to mask the flame of the torch to the outside, and a man seen with a walkie-talkie radio apparently was posted to warn his confederates to extinguish the cutting tool when pedestrians or motorists approached, they reasoned.

As a result, the theft was not discovered until several hours later, when the store manager prepared to open for businss.

The store is at Washington and Fluvanna Avenue.

Charge 4 Men In Holdup and Slaying at Bank

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A tip led to the arrests of four men accused of being involved in the holdup-slaying of the manager-secretary of a savings and loan association office, police say.

FBI agents and city detectives apprehended William Blanchard, 22, of Buffalo, a part-time laundry worker and night club jazz singer, Saturday after acting on a tip obtained by an assistant chief of detectives. The nature of the tip was not disclosed.

Authorities charged Blanchard with being the gunman who fatally shot Edmund H. Mayer, 69, late Friday in the Community Savings & Loan Association office as his wife watched helplessly. No money was taken.

After questioning Blanchard, police arrested three other men, all within 30 hours of the slaying. They were Paul Thomas, 21, a night club singer and guitarist; Monroe Leslie, 33, described as the operator of a night club, and Willie E. Fountaine, 30, a part-time musician. All are from Buffalo.

The four were charged with violating the federal statutes against murder, robbery and conspiracy. Federal law permits the death sentence upon conviction of murder.

Federal officials said that even though only one bandit was in the office, other suspects not at the scene could be considered as principals by virtue of conspiracy charges.

The men appeared before U.S. Commissioner Edmund F. Maxwell, who confined them to Erie County jail without bail to await a preliminary hearing June 26.

A team of 40 FBI agents and 30 city detectives participated in an investigation that was centered in the east side neighborhood of the banking institution.

THE ROMANCE OF GOLD

Gold has had a most interesting career for more than 30 years. I have been asked to write about it.

As a store of value, measure of value and medium of exchange, this rare metal has never had a challenging competitor. It is indestructible. It is beautiful. For centuries, it has been cherished by its world owners.

In America, it came into the spotlight in 1933. At that time, our great country was going through a devastating depression. One overwhelming weakness of that depression was the low basic commodity price level.

Wheat, for instance, hit 40 cents a bushel. Cotton sold for 5 cents a pound. American agriculture was prostrate. I remember that year well.

My late uncle, a big wheat grower, came east. He was very discouraged. He needed a lot of power machinery to harvest his crop. But low prices for wheat prevented him from buying it.

And the big agricultural equipment corporations were handicapped. Likewise, the steel companies were stymied and the railroads suffered.

Thus, 40-cent wheat set up a chain reaction in several basic industries.

Just at this time, a distinguished professor of agricultural economics in a top-ranking university proclaimed a doctrine that would remedy this entire situation.

He said that if the gold content of the dollar were reduced, the basic commodity price level would be lifted. In other words, if gold were increased in price, wheat and cotton would advance.

Under this theory, Congress nationalized gold and the U.S. Government, through its proper agency, bought in the gold at $20.67 an ounce. It became illegal to hold gold as money.

Then, when the U.S. Government possessed all of this gold, Congress took further steps to put teeth into this theory.

Congress passed legislation marking up the price of gold. It finally reached $35 an ounce and it has been at this price for more than three decades.

It is questionable that this gold juggling aided in advancing commodity prices. But this legislation set into motion forces that are still here and that will be here into the indefinite future.

As this column has recently declared, this gold business is coming to the fore again. Gold is in short supply all over the world. That is why so many countries cling so tenaciously to their gold reserves.

It is my opinion that it is just a question of time before the price of gold will be increased. American investors can't buy and hold gold.

But they can buy the common stocks of leading United States and Canadian gold-producing corporations. And my guess is that a bull market in these stocks can start at any time.

Smart Tourists Can Enjoy Expo for $5

MONTREAL (AP) — Complaints about expense are as common as summer flies on Expo 67's crowded fair site and may multiply now that school is out and children are streaming in.

Perhaps that's why the World's Fair has put out a timely list of advice on everything from where to see a good free movie to how to find a giant sausage roll for 80 cents.

"All it takes is careful planning and a little ingenuity," says the circular in promising a fun time for $5 a day per person — excluding the $2.50 entrance fee.

Finding cheap entertainment is not the main money difficulty once the hurdle of the gate price is passed. All pavilions are free and so are dozens of top-notch movies around the site.

The Man and his Health Pavilion has been packing in 3,000 visitors an hour to enjoy its free double bonus — technicolor film showing live operations and a chance to be one of several dozen who faint at the sight every day.

Then there are free fashion shows — including one that features Russian folk songs in the Soviet Pavilion — the Expo Art Gallery, bandshell concerts, speeches, water displays and the booming midnight fireworks shows.

The La Ronde amusement section does charge for rides and shows but the budget-conscious may well find small rides at 25 or 35 cents as exciting as well-advertised thrills like the gyrotron and sky ride at between 75 cents and $1.

The real expenses of Expo are likely to be food, transportation to the site and overnight lodging.

The new Expo advice circular suggests families pass up plush pavilion restaurants where prices are high and the wait to get in often tedious, especially for children.

Recommended instead are three new, low-budget restaurants on Notre Dame Island which offer everything from a half a barbecued chicken for $1.95 to wedges of guiche lorrain — onion and ham pie — for 50 cents.

Built to handle restaurant crowding problems, the three new concessions can seat a total of 2,500 and are expected to be joined by other new inexpensive eating places shortly.

Altogether there now are 81 restaurants on expo — many of them fairly cheap — plus 79 snackbars that offer hot dogs for 35 cents, Belgian waffles for 50 cents or pastries for 30 cents.

"But food expense needn't be a worry if you pack your own lunch, and take advantage of park benches, outdoor eating tables and grassy spots scattered over the site," the new circular says.

Business Mirror Reflections

See Non-Whites' Job Needs Big Cause of Summer Strife

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The high rate of Negro unemployment, which is one of the basic causes of racial unrest, seems to be rising even more at the very time riots are breaking out in America's large cities.

This fact tends to give more meaning to the familiar cry of Negro spokesmen after a riot, a demand of "we want jobs," a demand that many comfortable Americans tend to ignore as mere noise.

Misleading Statistics

One of the factors that hides the Negro job problem is a well-known statistic that shows the unemployment rate for the United Shates at the very low figure of 3.8 per cent.

A breakdown of the percentages, however, produces some revealing contrasts.

The unemployment rate for all adult men, for instance, is even more impressive, only 2. per cent. What, then, pushes up ths rate to 3.8?

The number of teen-age jobless—and this can figure in the rioting — supplies some of the answer. In May, when many youngsters began looking for and not finding summer jobs, the rate rose to 13.1 per cent from 11.6 per cent a month earlier.

Now break down the figures by race and some meaningful percentages reveal themselves: 3.3 per cent unemployment for whites in May, the same percentage as in April; for non-white, 7.8 per cent, a jump of one-half of one per cent in one month.

Even though such figures show the percentage of Negroes looking for jobs and not finding them was more than double the rate of whites in the same predicament, the contrast may be even more extreme.

In poverty areas, for instance, the unemployment rate may be better than 25 per cent—considerably higher than that if you use more liberal definitions of joblessness than does the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

37.6 Pc. in Chicago

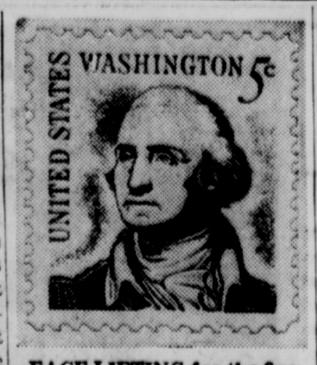

A study of three Chicago poverty areas last year, made by the Chicago Committee on Urban Opportunity in cooperation with the State Employment Service and the Cook County Public Aid Department, found unemployment of 37.6 per cent.

This study committee's finding was 10 per cent more than that estimated by the federal government, a fact explained by the inclusion of those jobless adults who had given up looking but still were available for work.

The Chicago study include "discouraged job seekers" on the theory they were perhaps available for work but weren't looking because of a lack of success or training or a belief that it was no use to apply just to be turned down.

The future, too, does not hold as much promise as hope. Labor Department studies have shown that the next decade may be most rewarding for professional, technical, service and clerical workers. In other words, the future for the unskilled will be less than bright.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first president of the United States to leave the country while in office. He went to Panama.

FACE-LIFTING for the five-cent George Washington stamp is in response to harsh criticism after the stamp was first issued in February of 1966. The new design, softening harsh highlights and shadow areas on George's face, will be issued Nov. 17. Critics accused the original five-center of portraying a "prune face," and a "sour and disagreeable old man."

Sullivan County Added to Tocks Island Council

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Sullivan County, N.Y. has been added to the Tocks Island Advisory Council, bringing to two the number of New York State counties on the project's board.

The council voted to include Sullivan County in the unit Saturday at the request of the county's officials, who acted on the ground that a Congressional committee is expected to recommend that the Delaware Water Gap Recreation Area be extended into New York.

A large part of Sullivan County is within the expected extended area.

Other county members are Orange, New York; Monroe, Northampton and Pike, Pennsylvania; and Warren and Sussex, New Jersey.

Non-Farm Work Hits State High

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Non-agricultural employment in New York State during April reached 6,810,000, a record high for the month, the State Commerce Department says.

In a report Saturday, Commerce Commissioner Ronald B. Peterson said the April total was 50,000 more jobs than in March and 172,000 more than in April 1966.

Leading the increase were more jobs in construction, 24,800; services, 21,700, and retail trade, 13,500.

FBI and Dutchess Hunt Truck Thieves

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and local authorities today joined in a wide search for thieves who stole two loaded tractor-trailers from the Dorn Transportation Inc. depot on West Cedar Street, Town of Poughkeepsie.

State police from the Middletown barracks recovered Sunday one of the two tractor-trailers which had been abandoned on Route 17K near Bullville in Orange County. At least $10,000 in merchandise valued at $90,000 was missing from the trailer, authorities said.

The other vehicle which was sought throughout the Hudson Valley was carrying a cargo of ammunition for various firearms valued at $57,000. Merchandise on the recovered vehicle included razors, electrical appliances and assorted items.

Town Police Sergeant George Lochner told The Freeman that the ammunition loaded tractor-trailer was stolen a short time after it had been left at Dorn's depot. The value of the two trucks was placed at $25,000 each, Lochner said.

Shortly after the trucks were missed, teletype alarms were sent out and roadblocks were set up throughout the area, but it is believed the discovery of the theft was not made until hours after the theft occurred.

Directing the investigation with FBI agents were Town Police Chief Charles Schade and Det. Lieut. Richard Hellman.

Sergeant Lochner said both tractor-trailers were plainly marked with the name and address of the trucking company, and the cargo on each vehicle was ready for delivery to area merchants.

Three Injured In Accidents On Saturday

Three persons were injured in separate motor vehicle accidents investigated by Kingston State Police on Saturday.

Trooper Craig Bremer said John Thomas Brice, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brice off 20 Stephan Street, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg shortly before 8:30 p. m., when the wheel of a car ran over his leg at the Sunset Drive-In Theater lot off Route 28.

The boy was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctors Ambulance.

According to a report of Trooper James Fitzgerald, the boy apparently darted between parked vehicles into the path of a car operated by Joseph DiBlanca of Clintondale. The left front wheel passed over the child"s leg, authorities said.

Floyd Howard, 76, of 27 Linderman Avenue, and his wife, Helen, 73, were injured at 2:15 p. m. Saturday when their car veered off Route 9W about two miles north of the state police barracks and sideswiped a utility pole. Howard sustained lacerations of the nose, and his wife received cuts of the forehead.

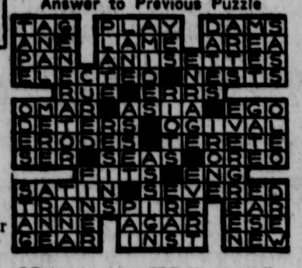

Howard was cited for failure to keep to the right. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster. It was raining at the time of the mishap and the highway was slippery, troopers said.

Suffers Seizure

While riding in a car operated by her husband on Wittenburg Road Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Rosemary Rossi, of Northvale, N. J., suffered a seizure. She was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance, and was given oxygen en route. A hospital spokesman today said Mrs. Rossi's condition was "apparently good."

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned mixed early Monday as Wall Street watched the United Nations and statements by President Lyndon Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin on the Middle East problem.

At the opening, gainers outnumbered losers by about 4 to 3, but the advantage of the plus side soon vanished and there was about an even balance.

Among the heaviest blue chips, du Pont lost nearly a point and American Telephone eased after opening unchanged. General Motors and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were unchanged.

Among the most activsly traded issues, Martin Marietta held a fractional gain, as did Lionel and Thiokol, while Raytheon gained 1 and Union Carbide tacked on about 2.

Control Data, however, slipped more than a point, as did Lily Tulip, both on heavy volume.

Opening blocks included:

Martin Murietta, up ⅝ at 23⅛ on 16,000 shares; Pan American World Airways, unchanged at 33⅜ on 6,000; American Telephone, unchangedat 57¼ on 5,200; and Woolworth, up ¼ at 25¼ on 4,600.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional gainers included Aerojet-General, LTV Electronics, Xtra Inc., Gemisco Technology and Zapata Offshore. Among losers were Interphoto, Louisiana Land, Monogram Industries and Plume & Attwood.

'No Comment' Bank Word on N. Y. Tie

A reported possible consolidation of the State of New York National Bank with a large metropolitan banking firm could not be confirmed today.

Officials of the bank had "no comment" in the absence of A. Raymond Atkins, president of the bank. Atkins was out of town and not expected to return before Wednesday.

For some time there has been a rumor that negotiations were underway with representatives of the Bankers Trust of New York or a holding company.

State of New York National Bank has a main banking house at the corner of Wall and John Streets, with an installment credit office across the street at 300 Wall Street. The bank also maintains the Kingston Plaza branch at the Kingston Shopping Center, a new midtown branch at Smith Avenue and Grand Street, the Albany Avenue Branch in the Town of Ulster and the Huguenot National Bank in New Paltz.

Since a recent broadening of consent for large banks to acquire and consolidate with other banking houses outside their immediate territory, there has been increased action in the consolidation field.

Several of the large metropolitan banking firms, through holding corporations, have sought to acquire banks in various cities across the state outside the metropolitan area.

In order to acquire banking houses through consolidation, approval of directors and consent of both State and Federal authorities are necessary. At the present time it is understood no publication has been made by the State of New York National Bank for either State of Federal controller of currency approval.

ITU Ratifies 3-Year Pact With 3 Papers

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of printers union Local 6 have ratified a new three-year contract with the New York Times, Daily News and Long Island Press.

The vote was 159 to 27 Sunday at a meeting of the local of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union (ITU).

Bertram A. Powers, president of Local 6, said the contract is "the best ever negotiated in the jurisdiction of the ITU." The terms were agreed upon by negotiators in recent weeks.

The contract provides for a wage increase of a little more than 20 per cent over three years. Among other benefits is a cost-of-living adjustment clause. Under the old contract, the printers had a basic pay rate of $151.85 a week on the day shift. Night work carries premium pay.

Three other unions have reached tentative agreements with the three newspapers, which are mempers of the Publishers Association of New York City, and votes on ratification will be held. The six other unions in the industry are still negotiating.

Contracts between the 10 unions and member papers of the Publishers Association expired March 30.

Coffey, Nadspal In Primary Run

On Tuesday, Primary Day, two new names will be offered to the enrolled Democratic and Liberal voters of Kingston as candidates for County Legislator from the City of Kingston. John F. Coffey of 23 Coffey Place and Frank Nadspal of 103 Dunneman Avenue are seeking the designations of both Democratic and Liberal parties.

Coffey was educated in Kingston and New York City schools and is a Licensed Master Plumber by trade. He was a member of the Examining Board of Plumbers for three years and its President for one year. He has been connected with the plumbing trade for the past 31 years and has been in business for himself for 15 years. He is a member of St. Joseph's Church and the Holy Name Society. A member of the Catholic War Vets, his four years of World War II Air Corps service included the Pacific Theatre. He and his wife, the former Emily I. Smith have three daughters, Joan, Karen and Patricia and one son John, Jr.

Nadspal was born in Chicago and attended schools in Jersey City, N. J. He graduated from St. Peter's College in Jersey City and served in the Air Force in 1943 through 1945. Employed by I.B.M. in April 1955 he is presently serving as a cost engineer at the Kingston facility. A former member of the Sons of Poland, Jersey City, he is a member of the American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and was a member of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association.

Nadspal and his wife Nell have two daughters, Carolyn and Christine and one son Francis. They attend St. Joseph's Church.

These candidates issued the following joint statement:

"As family men, businessmen, and taxpayers we offer to the enrolled Democrats and Liberals, as well as to all voters, the opportunity to stock our new County Legislature with men qualified to be concerned about the future growth of Ulster County, and qualified to act on behalf of the family men, businessmen, and taxpayers of Ulster County."

One Up, One Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Figures from the first three months of this year show that manufacturing sales were up 5 per cent but profits were down 7 per cent compared with the first quarter of 1966.

In a joint report, the Federal Trade Commission and Securities and Exchange Commission said manufacturing sales were $137 billion and profits after taxes were $6.7 billion in the first quarter of this year.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING....

Speculations Avoid Low-Priced

Q) "I own four stocks and I don't know whether to sell or hold them. They are American Electronics, Inc., Pentron Electronics, Asamera Oil, and Wilshire Oil of Texas. I have a loss on all these issues and would like your advice as to what I should do." A. P.

A) I am sorry to say that, in my opinion, you own low-priced speculative issues that lack the investment qualities you seem to need. It is distressing to encounter people like yourself who have had to learn the hard way that low-dollar stocks rarely pay off for the inexperienced investor.

All your shares contain some element of risk. American Electronics, Inc. (not to be confused with American Electronic Laboratories) was suspended May 12 from trading on the American Exchange. Asamera Oil is a deficit situation and Pentron earns very little. These three issues sell at so low a price that you have little choice but to hold them.

Wilshire is probably the best of your holdings, but in my opinion it is still not the type of stock that the average small investor should own. I advise you to switch this issue into fewer shares of Texas Oil & Gas, which has a strong growth record.

Q) "Recently I read an article that implied that mutual funds are being mishandled and an investigation is in progress. Does this apply to all mutual funds and should I convert my present holdings into cash?" J. O.

A) I believe that you have entirely misinterpreted the article to which you refer. The criticism that has been made about mutual funds in general has concerned sales and management fees. The SEC contends that these charges are too high and would like legislation to bring them down. At no time has it made any general criticism as to the way in which the fund portfolios are managed. If your mutuals have performed satisfactorily, I strongly advise you to retain them.

Driver Cited After 3-Car Hunter Crash

Occupants of three cars escaped injury, but four vehicles were extensively damaged and one operator was cited by Leeds State Police after a chain-reaction collision at 12:15 a. m. Sunday on Main Street, Hunter.

Trooper D. N. Perry said Ernest J. Benevento, 20, of Brooklyn, was summoned by troopers to appear before Police Judge Robert Gooley, Town of Hunter, on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and following too closely.

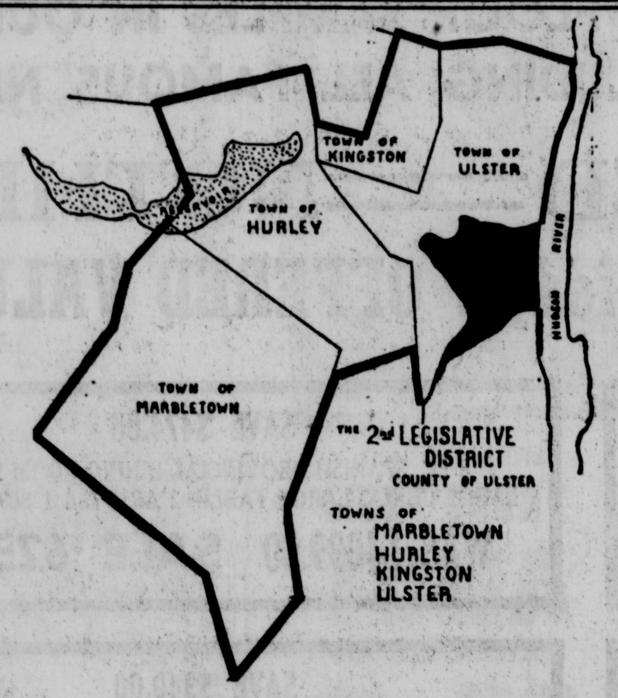

Benevento, authorities reported, left the scene after his car reportedly was in collision with the rear of a car owned and operated by Dennis J. Holm, 18, of Brooklyn. The impact pushed the Holm car into the rear of a car driven by Raymond J. Mazzie, 18, of Brooklyn, and his vehicle collided with an unoccupied parked car owned by John McArthur of Jersey City, N. J.

State Approves Esopus Sewer Study

State approval of the Town of Esopus sewerage study and positive action on the removal of automobile "junkers" were the highlights of the monthly meeting of the Esopus Town Board, held last week at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

A letter was received from the State Department of Health just prior to the meeting that the comprehensive sewerage study of the Township, prepared by Brinnier and Larios, Kingston professional engineers, had received final state approval. The $32,250 study, financed in its entirety by the state, has been in preparation for a year and a half.

Details of the findings of the study are expected to be released shortly. When released, the Town Board plans to hold a series of public information meetings to acquaint the residents of the areas affected with the results of the study. The informational meetings are expected to be followed by a public referendum to determine the wishes of the citizens on the actual installation of a sewer system.

The study called for a survey of two areas. One study area embraces the northern part of the township including Port Ewen, Connelly, Sleightsburgh and Ulster Park. The other study area is of the western part of the township surrounding Rifton. The two areas were to be evaluated as to their sewerage needs, including future growth to the year 2015. Cost estimates were to be prepared for the collection, treatment and disposal of sewerage and to devolp recommendations for immediate and long-range considerations.

The automobile "junker" problem in the Town of Esopus took a long step towards solution, or at least alleviation, when Justice of the Peace Allan S. Dargie announced that arrangements were being completed for an out of area auto junk dealer to come in and remove the old vehicles from a central collection point.

Like virtually every municipality, the Town of Esopus is plagued with the problem of disposal of old automobiles. Some property owners, particularly in the rural areas, even allow the owners of old cars, for a fee, to leave them on their property, depressing the value of surrounding areas. The Town of Esopus has an auto junkyard ordinance. In the past, however, enforcement has been complicated as there has been no place where offending property owners could be directed to take their "junkers" when directed to remove them.

Under the disposal plan worked out by Justice Dargie, a temporary collection point would be established at the rear of the Frank Kelly gas station at Rifton. Offenders would be directed to take their "junkers" to the collection point. When a sufficient number of old automobiles were assembled, they would be removed by trailer truck. Under the provisions of the ordinance, offenders who refused to move their junk cars to the collection point would have the "junkers" removed by the town, with the cost levied against their property.

Spring Valley Civic Association requested the town to undertake better control of dogs. A discussion ensued on the problems involved. The Board agreed to obtain dog control ordinances in effect in other townships to see if their provisions might be applicable and effective in the Town of Esopus.

A letter was received from Attorney John J. Schick containing a suggested amendment to the town's garbage disposal ordinance. The suggested change would include "droppings or excreta of domestic fowl, in whole or mixed with some other substance" in the term "garbage" as used in the ordinance. The proposed change was referred to the legal staff of the Association of Towns to determine the possibility of conflict with existing state law.

A letter was received from the County Department of Highways condemning a bridge on the Floyd Ackert Road at West Park. The county plans to build a new bridge at the site, commencing construction the latter part of the month.

The Board agreed to provide additional days for voter registration, in addition to the eight days to be provided in October. This year, with the introduction of permanent personal registration, every citizen must register in order to vote in November. The additional registration days will be provided during the summer at the Town Hall. The dates will be announced when further details are worked out.

A letter was received from the St. Remy Fire District requesting the inspection and "repair or demolition" notices to be sent to the owners of two dilapidated properties in the Union Center area. The inspection by the town fire marshal and town building inspector had been made prior to the meeting and the requested notices issued.

The assessors noted that Grievance Day will be held Tuesday at the Town Hall from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Grievance Day is provided by law for citizens who wish to make formal protest about the assessments on their properties.

The report of the Port Ewen Water Board noted that the average daily water consumption of the district during May had been 196,258 gallons. A notice of claim was received from Attorney Robert Ortale, made on behalf of James Martin of Sackett Street, Port Ewen, claiming damages to his premises as the result of a water main break on March 8.

DeVall H. Dunbar, building inspector, reported the issuance of 11 building permits during May with a total valuation of the work undertaken of $35,400. The permits covered two houses, one motel, two garages, one tool shed, three additions to houses and one church addition. Harry Mains, town fire marshal, reported on 14 inspection trips made during April and May.

Ross Park Commission reported that the summer program of organized recreation at Ross Park would commence on Monday, June 26. The program this summer will be under the direction of Miss Dianne Potter and Miss Brenda Kelly, the same directors as last year.

It was reported that the Town Planning Board had held its first meeting with Raymond & May, the professional planning organization engaged by the township. Raymond and May proposes to complete the Esopus project by December 1968. The Town of Esopus recently received a $16,900 federal grant to help carry out planning for the town.

Permission was granted to Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier to attend a school for highway superintendents to be held at Cornell University, July 10-12.

Permission was granted to the Port Ewen Reformed Church to close off Hasbrouck Street, Port Ewen, the evening of Saturday, August 5, for the purpose of holding a block party.

The Board, together with representatives of the Town Planning Board and Port Ewen Water Board, and highway superintendent agreed to meet with Nick Schwartz, a developer, on a proposed street addition he desires to install off Doris Street, Port Ewen. The meeting is scheduled for June 21.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "How about a week devoted to poor play? We might show mistakes that just shouldn't be made."

Oswald: "A good idea. As a starter let's go back to the old cliche, 'Don't send a boy on a man's errand' and give an example of what happens when you can afford to ruff with a high card but ruff low instead."

Jim: "This play usually is the result of carelessness."

Oswald, "I am inclined to attribute it to mental laziness. The declarer just doesn't bother to think at all."

Jim: "South jump to four spades was sound. His only problem was to take care of one of his three clubs. He might have worried against a trump or heart lead but West opened the six of clubs. East took his ace and returned the ten. South's queen lost to West's king and West played the jack.

Oswald: "At this point all South had to do was to ruff high, then run off 10 tricks but south ruffed with the seven spot. East overruffed and, since South still had to lose a diamond, he was down one."

Jim: "I suppose that South made the usual complaint about bad luck."

Oswald: "Of course he did. Actually it was bad luck but the man to complain was North. It was his bad luck that his partner did not see that he could ruff with the king or ten and still have enough top trumps to handle any trump break."

$100,000 Fire in Dutchess

Firemen from three northern Dutchess County districts battled for hours Saturday night to quell a fire that destroyed a four-story barn owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman on Brenner Road west of Red Hook village. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Officials said the fire was caused by lightning which struck during a heavy thunderstorm that swept the area. Fire companies from Red Hook, Rhinebeck and Tivoli fought the flames as fire units in neighboring districts were alerted in case more manpower was needed.

The blaze was visible for more than 10 miles from the scene of the fire, and despite heavy rain scores of residents went to the Hoffman farm to watch firemen as they fought to control the flames.

Firemen salvaged farm tractors and other equipment, but most of the contents of the huge barn were lost.

Hoffman has operated a truck farm and commercial produce business in Red Hook for a number of years.

Body May Be One Taken From Cemetery

POULTNEY, Vt. (AP)—Vermont officials scheduled tests today to determine if a body of a girl discovered near a state park near here was one taken from a grave in a cemetery at Granville, N.Y., last April.

Robert E. West, state attorney for Rutland County, said Sunday, "this may be the body of the missing Granville girl," Donna Wilkins.

3 Dead in Schenectady Fire

The injured were taken to Ellis Hospital. Officials there said Alice Scripter, 63, and Helen Chandler, 68, suffered severe body burns and were in critical condition.

George Wilt, 69, and Catherine Hickock, 66, were admitted for treatment of smoke inhalation. They were in fair condition, the hospital said.

A fifth person was treated for minor injuries and discharged.

State Art and Home Show

Less than two weeks remain for volunteer organizations sponsoring community activities to enter their projects in the New York State Fair Art and Home Center's 16th annual Community Service Awards Contest. The deadline is Friday, June 23.

A total of $1,500 in prizes is being given this year, according to Mrs. Edward Group, awards chairman. In addition to the first-place award of $500, a $500 award in a special music category will also be offered. The second-place winner will receive $200 and third-through fifth-place winners will receive 100 each.

The Fair will be held in Syracuse, Tuesday, Aug. 29 through Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 4.

The awards are designed to recognize the most outstanding community service projects across the state, no matter how large or small. In addition, the contest provides a forum for exchange of valuable ideas among the groups which enter.

One of the winning groups last year was the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club.

A special music award has been added this year in recognition of the acquisition and installation of the antique Keith Theatre organ from Syracuse and the establishment of the Music Museum in the Art and Home Center.

The Community Service Awards Contest is open to men's and young people's organizations, as well as women's volunteer groups in New York State.

Entries will be judged in Buffalo in July by a panel well versed in the field of community services. The winning organization will be presented their awards at the Women's Day Luncheon, Wednesday, Auguest 30, at the Fair.

Official rules and entry blanks may be obtained by writing: Community Service Awards Contest, New York State Fair, Syracuse, New York 13209.

Of Many Things—Water Wigs

A practical conversation piece at poolside or seaside these days is a "water wig" that looks like hair. You can choose parrot green, bright orange or brassy blond locks.

This amusing headgear, which includes a George Washington style in emerald green and a Beatle set in overlapping layers of bright greens, purples, and blues—protects real hair from both sun and water.

White Is Fashion Right

After years of untrimmed necklines, fashion has decreed the return of face-flattering white collars. Choir boy styles, frilled jabots, even big berthas with matching cuffs are "in" this season.

Immaculate cleanliness is required to maintain the charm of these accessories. For practicality, they should be washable —and for convenience, they should be duplicated. A second set can be made by home sewers or orders when purchasing ready-mades. Attaching snap fasteners to neckwear facilitates its removal and replacement when laundered.

Here! Here!

Born to greasepaint through two generations of theatrical forebears, Vanessa Redgrave's personal beauty philosophy, off stage, is summed up in three words—soap and water.

"Beauty should be completely natural," she says. "I am a firm believer in the old-fashioned method of simply washing one's face with water and a good soap. There is nothing more lovely than a fresh, untouched, rosy-cheeked complexion."

Couldn't agree with you more, Vanessa!

Sweet Adelines Plans Guest Night For Tuesday at 8

The Colonial City Chapter of Sweet Adelines Inc., under the direction of Mrs. Dixie Westervelt, will hold its regular weekly meeting and "Open House Guest Night," Tuesday, June 20 at 8 p.m., in the Brigham School auditorium on O'Neil street in Kingston.

The chapter, which is comprised of women from Kingston and the surrounding areas, entered its chorus in the Northeastern regional competition for the first time early this year and made an excellent showing for a newly-chartered chapter. Following competition, the chorus received many plaudits and much encouragement from the numerous officials of the national association for their splendid showing. At the regular monthly business meeting the following were appointed as chairmen of various committees: Carole Smith, membership; Dixie Westervelt, quartet promotion; Anne Rick, publicity. Mrs. Smith was also elected vice- president and Nancy Glynn as historian.

Earlier during this month the chorus had two successful "sing outs," one for the Mid-Hudson Heart Association at the Skytop Restaurant, and the other in the Governor Clinton Hotel for the 1947 Kingston High School graduates class reunion.

Any organization interested in obtaining commitments for use at charitable or social functions should contact Mrs. Barbara Bondar of Kingston or Mrs. Carole Smith of Woodstock.

UCCC Student Wins Bank Scholarship

George A. Mahoney Jr., one of eight children of a Leeds carpenter, has won a full-tuition scholarship from the State of New York National Bank to continue his second year of studies at Ulster County Community College starting next September.

The student received the scholarship from A. Raymond Atkins, president of the State of New York National Bank.

Mr. Mahoney was picked from this year's freshman class at UCCC for an outstanding record in his studies and for personal characteristics which forecast a successful future career. After completing his studies at UCCC he plans to transfer to a four-year college and seek a baccalaureate degree and go on to a career in public accountancy.

"This scholarship shows the continued interest the State of New York National Bank has in fostering scholarships," said Dr. George B. Erbstein, the UCCC president. "It will encourage Mr. Mahoney to continue his education and will serve as an incentive for other students to maintain the present high quality of scholarship at the College."

The judges for the scholarship choice were Neil N. Whitehurst, chairman of the Division of Business at UCCC, and Mrs. Vincent Connelly, a prominent area citizen who is a trustee at the State University College at New Paltz.

The 1967 State of New York National Bank scholarship represents the fourth annual scholarship the bank has given to a UCCC student. It was the first commercial organization to give a scholarship to the then new community college in 1964, a pioneering move which encouraged the participation of other trades and industries as well as individuals in underwriting scholarships for UCCC students.

Mr. Mahoney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Mahoney, Sr., Park Avenue, Leeds, Greene County. A June, 1966 graduate of St. Patrick's High School, Catskill, he was named to the Dean's List at UCCC in the Fall, 1966, Semester.

Nicklaus Wins Second U.S. Open Title With Record 275

★ ★ ★

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — "I felt like an idiot, standing there with a one-iron in my hand," Jack Nicklaus said. "But I knew what I had to do to win this golf tournament."

The bulky Golden Bear, at age 27 perhaps the best golfer the world has seen, was explaining the final moments of his record-shattering triumph in the United States Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

"I wasn't thinking about records," Nicklaus said over and over. "Records come. They're made to be broken. I just wanted to win this tournament."

He did. And—he insists it was entirely incidental—he broke Ben Hogan's 19-year-old Open scoring record of 276 by one stroke with a curling, 23-foot putt on the final hole.

It gave him a final round 65, five under par for the stately old Baltusrol Course, and a 72-hole total of 275, adding the Open scoring record to his Masters mark of 271.

But he was more concerned with adding this second Open title—he won his first in 1962 in his first year as a pro—to his collection of three Masters, a PGA and a British Open crown.

"I had to make a decision on the 18th tee," Nicklaus said. The 18th is a 542-yard, par 5 hole. "I was four strokes ahead and knew I had to beat (Arnold) Palmer to win it,

"Two things were going through my mid. One was what Arnie said last year, that he was thinking about breaking Hogan's record when he had that blow-up in San Francisco.

"The other was that Dick Mayer took a seven on this same hole and lost the Open in 1954.

"Those were the things I was thinking about. I knew the only way Arnie could catch me was for him to get a three and me a seven. So I was shooting for a six or better.

"So I took out a one iron—I felt like an idiot doing it —and aimed it down the right side of the fairway. I was in the rough, on something that looked like a cable. So I got a drop and hit an eight iron back to the fairway."

He reached the green in three "and that's when I knew I had the tournament won."

For all intents and purposes, however, he had it won much earlier, when he reeled off a string of three straight birdies on the third through fifth holes. That gave him a lead he never relinquished.

A Fabulous Round

It was a fabulous round for the chubby druggist's son from Ohio, who beat Palmer in a playoff for his first Open triumph in his first year as a professional in 1962.

The card for the 7,015 yard, par 70 course showed nine 3's, without an eagle. Besides his five outgoing birdies at the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 7th and 8th holes, Nicklaus canned birdies at the 13th, 14th and 18th.

His prodigious drives gave him a tremendous advantage and he frequently knocked his irons right up to the pin, but he also had one of his greatest putting days.

He had eight one putt greens, sinking assignments of 12, 15 and 18 feet in addition to his curling snake on the final hole. His putts on the 13th and 14th were simple ones of five and three feet.

Nicklaus became infatuated with a center-shafted putter belonging to a friend from Washington, D. C., Fred Mueller, during practice last week and immediately coaxed the friend to part with the blade.

Now the putter — a copper blade with white paint on its face—may be destined for the Golf House Museum.

Palmer, the tournament favorite, never got going. Playing with Nicklaus for the second straight day, he could do no more than put pars while Nicklaus was canning birdies until the 17th hole.

Then the Latrobe, Pa. millionaire sank consecutive birdies—his only sub-par holes of the round.

Hogan, 55, bidding for his fifth Open crown had finished approximately an hour before Nicklaus reached the final green, but the Texas Hawk realized that his proud record was doomed.

"I thought several fellows might break the record here," said Hogan. "The fairways were wide and rough wasn't so bad. The greens, however, were very tricky. Nicklaus did a remarkable job."

Palmer, who was tied with Nicklaus and Casper for second going into the final round, finished with a 69 for second place at 279. Playing in the same twosome with Nicklaus, he didn't get a birdie until the 17th, but added another at the 18th,

Casper, the defending champion, was bothered by driving problems and settled for fourth with a 72 for 282, one stroke back of Don January, who had a final round 70.

Marty Fleckman, the 23-year-old amateur from Port Arthur, Tex., who led the third round, blew sky high with an 80 for 289, putting him far, far back in the pack. He started with three bogeys, and also bogeyed six of seven holes on the back nine.

Hogan, 55, seeking his fifth Open title, had a final 72 for 292.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR NICKLAUS—Big Jack Nicklaus shows his elation by lifeting his right leg after sinking curling 23-foot birdie in putt on the 18th hole to win the 67th US Open Golf Championship Sunday at Baltusrol in Springfield, N. J. His four round total of 275 broke Ben Hogan's US Open low score record of 276 by one stroke. Nicklaus had eight birdies, 3 bogies and seven pars in Sunday's final round. Concord Slates Golf Tourney

Some two dozen touring pros, marking time while some of their compatriots are campaigning in England, will participate in the third annual Concord Hotel Invitation on July 12-14 at the famed hotel, located at Kiamesha Lake.

The three-day stand will be opened with the regular pro-celebrity tournament, after which will follow the 36-hold medal play event for the pros.

Tommy Bolt, the temperamental member of the touring pros, was the winner of the first tourney. Ray Flood captured the 1966 event.

The Concord's new, beautiful layout has become a conversation piece among the play-for-pay performers and many of them express an eagerness to see the 7,000-odd-yard course, rated among the top five in the United States.

Among the newcomers listed to play on the par 72 course are Paul Harney, Sutton, Mass.; Tom Nierporte, Locust Valley, L. I.; Bill Collins, Harrison, N. Y.; Ed Furgol, the Concord's home pro. Furgol was the 1954 U. S. Open winner while Nierporte captured this year's Bob Hope Classic.

Expected to return this year to compete in the three-day event are Miller Barber, recent winner of the Oklahoma Open; Art Wall, Honesdale, Pa., and Doug Ford, the one-time PGA champion.

The course record of 68 was set two years ago by Frank Wharton. However, his game fell apart the following day and nobody has approached that round.

In last year's tourney, the top, performances were 71's turned in by two players.

Clarke led during the first several laps. The time for the event was a mediocre 8:50.4.

USC Wins Track Championship

Run Away From College Field

By LARRY KURTZ

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Southern California is collegiate track and field king once more, and the reign may be a long one.

That was obvious after the Trojans made a joke of the team competition in the 46th annual NCAA track and field meet at Brigham Young University Saturday night.

As 19,500 watched, Southern California broke the world 440-yard relay record with three sophomores and a junior, swept the top two places in the pole vault with two sophomoes, and rolled up 86 points with surprising ease.

Oregon was a distant second with 40 points and defending champion UCLA was third with 27.

The Southern California relay youngsters include Lennox Miller, who finished second in both the 100 and 220 with times of 9.2 and 20.4; Fred Kuller, fourth in the 100; O. J. Simpson, sixth in the 100; and junior Earl McCullouch, high hurdle winner in 13.4.

With Miller running the anchor leg, the team flew around the track in 38.6, one full second under the listed world record. This same bunch had been clocked in 39.0 only seven days earlier.

Brighter Future

All four agreed that greater performances are in the offing.

"We can do one second better," Simpson said. "Our passes were bad. I was running with Lennox, and you're not supposed to do that."

"I know we can do much better," said McCullouch. "I made a terrible pass to Kuller."

Members of the relay team scored 41 points among them—enough to win the meet by themselves. But that's only part of it.

Sophomore pole vaulters Bob Seagren and Paul Wilson put on an exciting show as both tried to clear a world-record height of 17-8. Seagren has the pending mark of 17-7, set only a few days before the meet.

Both men failed on three tries after clearing 17-4 but Seagren said someone might clear 18 feet later this year. He said he might be the one, with Wilson and UCLA vaulters Dick Railsback and Rick Sloan also having a chance.

Big Randy Matson of Texas A&M won the shot and discus titles for the second straight year and then said he would give up the discus next year.

"I'm a shot putter," he said. "I'm going to concentrate on the shot. There are a lot of good discus men around."

Matson, who has a beat of 213-9 in the discus, won with a throw of 190-4 after his meet record 67-9¼ in the shot.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavyweight George Chuvalo of Toronto, light heavyweight Roger Rouse of Anaconda, Mont., and middleweight Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, all ranking contenders in their respective divisions, will appear on the same boxing card Thursday at the University of Montana field house in Missoula, Mont.

Chuvalo, recently signed for a Madison Square Garden bout July 19 with unbeaten Joe Frazier of Philadelphia, will take on Archie Ray of Tucson, Ariz.

Rouse, who is due to meet Dick Tiger, the 175-pound champ, in a title bout, will box Mexico's Bobby Rascon. Fullmer, former junior middleweight king, faces Luis Garduno of Las Vegas, Nev.

Fullmer, a younger brother of the former middleweight champ, hopes to get a shot at the winner of the Nino Benvenuti-Emile Griffith rematch.

Renaldo Victoria of Pittsfield, Mass., billed as the unbeaten New England lightweight champ, will box Hector Rodrigues of Providence, R.I., Friday in an outdoor show at Pittsfield.

Gurney Captures Belgium Grand Prix

FRANCORCHAMPS, Belgium (AP) — Dan Gurney captured the Grand Prix auto race of Belgium Sunday, becoming the first American in an American-made car ever to win a Grand Prix that counts toward the world championship.

Gurney, 36, of Costa Mesa, Calif., driving an American-Eagle he designed and built, beat Jackie Stewart of Britain in a BRM by 63 seconds, competing the 244.6-mile test in one hour, 40 minutes, 49.4 seconds. His average speed was 145.665 miles per hour in sunny weather.

Roberts, Zeeh Take Junior Tennis Titles

Dave Roberts and Bill Zeeh of Kingston have qualified for the New York State Jaycees Sports Spectacular tennis tournament in Kingston July 28-29.

Roberts captured the 18-and-under title in the Ulster County Junior Tennis tournament Saturday by defeating his doubles partner at Kingston High, Steve Lonergan, 6—0, 6—4. The meet was held in conjunction with the Jaycees District II eliminations.

In semi-final matches, Roberts eliminated Jeff Rudd of Ellenville, 6—0, 6—1, while Lonergan won over Dave Handler, also of Ellenville, 6—0, 6—2.

Zeeh took the 16-and-under finals from Jim Boyd of Kingston, 6—2, 6—1.

In semi-finals, Zeeh was forced to three sets before beating 12-year-old Peter Boyd, 6—3, 4—6, 6—0. Jim Boyd took Rick Haltermann in straight sets, 6—3, 6—3.

Both Roberts and Zeeh will be entered and sponsored in the state tournament here in July.

Ecuador Leads U. S. Cup Team

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) — Tiny Ecuador needed only a split in today's final two singles matches to oust the powerful U.S. team in the American Zone Davis Cup tennis playoffs.

But despite the double defeat suffered by his team Sunday and the 2-1 deficit it faces in the best-of-5 series, George MacCall, nonplaying captain of the American team, remained confident that the United States would win.

"It should be better than even money that we will win both singles," said MacCall, after watching Miguel Olvera lead a stirring Ecuador comeback.

Olvera whipped Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2 and then teamed with Francisco Guzman for a 0-6, 9-, 6-3, 4-6, 8-6 victory over Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., in the doubles.

Cliff Richey of Dallas beat Guzman 6-2, 2-6, 8-6, 6-4 in the opening singles Saturday.

Today's singles pitted Richey against Olvera and Ashe against Guzman.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — George Noga of first-place Evansville, has been named manager of the Southern League All-Stars, who will play the Atlanta Braves in Charlotte June 26.

Arizona State NCAA Champs

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Ron Davini, fiery little catcher for Arizona State's NCAA baseball champs, was dumbfounded when told he had been voted most outstanding player of the 21st College World Series Sunday night.

"I can't talk, except to say several other guys deserved it more," stammered the 19-year-old sophomore from Anaheim, Calif.

The award was a tribute to Davini's .409 Series hitting and superb fielding. His uniform is always the first to get dirty. His teammates call him "pig pen." He's so excitable, Coach Bobby Winkles had him write "relax" in big letters on the back of his catcher's mitt.

Randall and Bostic Share Herdegen Lead With 140's

Odeneal 3rd at 141; Costello Posts 145

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Following qualifying rounds Saturday and Sunday, the 17th annual Herdegen Memorial Golf Tournament has all the elements for one of the most spectacular finishes in the history of the county amateur championship.

Two old, familiar names—both former champions—Leon Randall and Harvey Bostic of Wiltwyck Country Club—share the qualifying lead with 36-hole totals of 2-over-par 140.

One stroke behind the leaders is a redoubtable reformed pro who could take it all—Bill Odeneal, a member of the athletic staff and State University at New Paltz.

Trailing the three veterans are two of the area's brightest golf prospects—long hitting Bob Costello and Jordan Pauker, who are 145 and 149, respectively.

Bill McCullen of Wiltwyck is in a sixth place tie at 150 with Form Coughlin of Twaalfskill. Tied at 151 are former champion George Hughes of Twaalfskill and Harold Van Aken of Wiltwyck. Charles J. Turck is in tenth place with 152.

Opening Day Tie

Despite a variety of weather, ranging from brisk morning temperatures with stiff breezes, a hot and humid afternoon, followed by showers, the field set a tournament record when three players matched Shawangunk's par 34-34-68 figures on Saturday.

Randall and Bostic, who birdied the first hole of the tournament, and Odeneal were blanketed at 68. Bostic carved out 35-33 on the hilly course, while Randall matched the card (34-34) and Odeneal tagged a finishing 33 on his opening 35. An eagle-3 on the par-five fourth hole enabled Odeneal to tie the leaders. He had 7 pars, a bogey and eagle.

Randall carded five birdies at Shawangunk, with two on the first hole. Bostic had three birdies for the day.

Odeneal in Lead

Odeneal fired a par-35 in the Sunday morning opener at Twaalfskill for a 103 score for 27 holes, one up on Bostic and three better than Randall who had putter trouble and three-putted three greens for a 38.

Randall bounced back with a 1-under-par 34 on the back nine despite intermittent showers to overhaul Bostic who slipped one over with a 36, while Odeneal soared to 38 with bogeys on No. 1, 3 and 5.

Costello, five shots off the pace Saturday, came back nicely Sunday with nines of 37-35. On the front nine he fired eight straight 4's before picking up a bogey-5 on the ninth. The second time around he birdied No. 4 and No. 8.

Jordan Pauker, coming off a disappointing high school season showed good form with a 76 at Shawangunk and 37-36-73 at Twaalfskill. He posted 7 pars and two bogeys on the front nine, then birdied 3 and 4 in succession on the back nine.

The cutoff figure of 165 was one of the highest in recent years and was shared by three players—Joe Modica of Woodstock and Bill Marks and Tom Stenson of Wiltwyck, assuring 26 players for the final rounds next Saturday and Sunday and Woodstock and Wiltwyck, respectively.

Other qualifiers included: Doug Sheppard, 153; Bill Van Aken, 154; Bill Cutler and Ed Byman, 155; Neil Pauker and Robert Merritt, 157; Alvin Boice, 158; George Cosenza, 159; Alex Sharpe III and Frank Muller, 162; Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn, 164.

The only major casualty in the qualifying round was former champion Clarence (Dubby) Raichle of Twaalfskill, who withdrew after 27 holes. He had fired an unusually high 88 Saturday at Shawangunk.

See Tight Finish

A rousing finale is expected next weekend, with Odeneal, former golf coach at Florida State U. conceded a good chance of taking it all. The chalk players, however, feel that the finale at Wiltyck is a distinct advantage for Randall and Bostic who are thoroughly familiar with their home layout. Costello is expected to remain a firm contender.

The Saturday round at Twaalfskill will get under way at 8:30 with a 9 a. m. finale at Wiltwyck.

Buckpasser's Streak Ends

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We still love him."

That's what trainer Eddie Neloy said after Buckpasser's 15-race winning streak ended abruply on Aqueduct's grass surface Saturday. The upset loss caused cancellation of his scheduled trip overseas for the Grand Prix de St. Cloud at Paris July 2.

The defeat of the mighty 4-year-old equine millionaire by his stable mate, Poker, and Assagai in the $55,400 Bowling Green Handicap still was the main topic of conversation in racing circles today.

It overshadowed the scheduled return to competition of Dr. Fager in the $100,000 Arlington Classic in Chicago this weekend as well as Furl Sail's attempt to sweep the New York triple crown for fillies by taking the $100,000 Coaching Club American Oaks at Aqueduct.

Buckpasser, lugging top weight of 135 pounds and wearing French-style smooth shoes, was beaten by two lengths in the first race of his career on a grass course. Poker, ridden by Bill Boland, led all the way in the 1⅛ miles under 112 pounds in 2:41 2-5.

Poker finished 1½ lengths ahead of Assagai, second high weight at 127 pounds, with Buckpasser third, half a length back of the runner-up.

"The trip is off, the wrong horse won," said Buckpasser's owner, Ogden Phipps, afterwards. "Buckpasser couldn't handle the grass."

Jockey Braulio Baeza and Neloy confirmed this. "He was slipping all over the place," Baeza said. "I knew he wasn't going the way he should," Neloy declared. "He was running with his head sideways. He wasn't himself but we still love him."

Dr. Fager, idle since his disqualifications after finishing first by 6½ lengths in the Jersey Derby on Decoration Day, doesn't figure to face his No. 1 rival for 3-year-old honors, Damascus, in the Arlington Classic.

Cubs, Red Sox Gain St. Mary's Decisions

Cubs topped the Tigers, 3-0, and the Red Sox won over the Mets, 4-3, in St. Mary's Pee Wee League games.

The Cubs and the Tigers were locked in a scoreless duel until the sixth when Nick Longendyke was plunked with a pitch and Kevin McGrane and Joe Secreato followed with home runs.

Joe Cozza hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth to give the Red Sox a tight win over the Mets.

Susie Maxwell Is Golf Winner

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Susie Maxwell stood in the flush of victory Sunday after winning the Milwaukee Jaycee Open Golf Tournament and solemnly said she was ready to drop professional golf at the drop of a proposal.

"The tour is nice," said the 25-year-old Oklahoman after pocketing $2,250—the biggest pay check of her pro career. "It's fun. It gives you a chance to travel all over and meet some wonderful people.

"But it's not the most important thing in a girl's life. To me that's getting married and having a family."

Susie, who says she's waiting for her beau in San Francisco to pop the question, climbed to second place on the Ladies Professional Golf Association 1967 earnings list with her five-stroke triumph carved out of round of 68, 73 and 75 for an even par 216.

Tied for second place with 221 totals were Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., 73-74-74; Judy Kimball, Sutton, Mass., 72-73-76; Peggy Wilson, Bonsall, Calif., 73-72-76, and Judy Torluemke, North Key Largo, Fla., 73-73-75.

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — Guy Wimberley of Albuquerque, N.M., shot a five-under-par Sunday to win the Navajo Trail Golf Tournament for the second year in a row. He shot a 139 for the 36 holes and won by three strokes.

Penn Oarsmen Win Regatta

By HERBERT G. PELKEY

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "Bring on Harvard," charged a jubliant Pennsylvania varsity crew after rowing away with the Intercollegiate Rowing Association championship Saturday in a brilliant performance of oarsmanship and endurance.

The strapping Penn heavyweights scored a two-length victory over Wisconsin's powerful defending champions and captured their first IRA crown in 67 years.

A freak thunderstorm halted Penn's crack jayvee crew, presenting a possible Quaker sweep of all three races — at the 65th annual classic.

The Penn jayvees had opened up a two-length lead at the one mile mark, but it was a dark-horse Navy crew that emerged from the fog the victor.

The Penn freshman captured their race for the second year in a row, overhauling Rutgers in the last quarter mile.

The favored Penn varsity, beaten only by Harvard, grabbed the lead near the start and appeared to open water with ease on the Badgers and third place Cornell.

The Quakers announced after the race they would take another crack at Harvard by entering the trials for the Pan-American Games at Orchard Beach Lagoon in New York City, July 1-2.

"We'll catch them the next time," crew members said.

Burk called his crews "the greatest" he has ever had in 17 years at Penn and warned that a lot of hard work still faced his sweepswingers.

"But bring on Harvard," he said.

Pay Dirt Runs 2:03.2 Mile To Capture E. T. Gerry Trot

MONTICELLO — Pay Dirt trotted to his first major stake win of the season at Monticello Saturday night, capturing the $9,985 Elbridge T. Gerry trot in a blazing 2:03.2—fastest of the season so far nationally on a half-mile track.

The Clear View Stables of New Canaan, Conn., who pin their Hambletonian hopes on Pay Dirt, clearly had to be satisfied by the performance in which trainer-driver Earle Avery took Pay Dirt from the four post and went right for the top which he held, except for a brief challenge at the half mile mark.

Going off at even money, the three-year-old colt by Florican-Impish, a distinguished trotting family, went over the first half in 1:01 with Proven Freight making the initial bold challenge. Fred Bradbury, from the seven post with Proven Freight, was hung outside and headed Pay Dirt as they went by the mid-way mark, but Pay Dirt rallied to regain the front going into the initial turn the second time.

After that nobody was catching Pay Dirt. An early threat, Marcel Hanover driven by Roger White, went offstride, as did Scully Hanover driven by Stanley Dancer.

Avery took Pay Dirt into the top of the stretch with nearly a two length lead and without applying any pressure to him, Pay Dirt won by two and three-fourths lengths going away.

Fast closing Blaze Frost, who went off at 30-1, was second, and James Arthur reigned Faybill to third place.

Last year Pay Dirt banked $78,408 with seven wins in a dozen outings, second twice and third twice, topping the earnings in his field and gait.

Now in his second start, after a third at Rosecroft last week, Pay Dirt has $5,295 in 1967 earnings and is taking dead aim on upcoming Hambo, having certainly served ample notice with the season's trotting mark on the half-mile ovals for three-year-olds.

The winner returned $4.20, 3.60 and 3.00. He was applauded by more than 8,500 on hand at Monticello Raceway Saturday.

Petty Captures Stock Feature

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — There isn't much left for stock car race driver Richard Petty to do but win more money and set more records for others to shoot at.

Petty, 29-year-old son of former driving great Lee Petty, took the Carolina 500-mile race Sunday and now has won on all of the South's five super speedways except the one at Charlotte. And even there, he crossed the finish line at the head of the pack one time—as a relief driver.

He has won 59 times in NASCAR's Grand National Division, more than any other driver in history, since beginning his career under his father's tutelage in 1959.

This year he has won 11 times, nine in his last 15 starts, and has banked $59,440 in official earnings to bring his career total well above the $300,000 mark. Every dollar of it has been won in Plymouth race cars.

"It's not so much a thrill to win now," he said after beating Dodge's Buddy Baker by more than a lap in Sunday's chase of more than 4½ hours over the mile-long North Carolina Motor Speedway. "But the money spends just as well."

Petty, a curly haired, 6-foot-5 200-pounder, pocketed $16,125 in this one.

Late Rally Is Decisive In Decision

Trailing by a 6-1 count after four innings, Schovel Tree Service pushed nine runs across the dish in the fifth and sixth frames to beat the Lions Club, 10-6, in a City Baseball League game Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

The second contest was rained out in the second frame with Elmer's Inn leading the Kingston All-Stars, 1-0.

The Lions nine had a trio of two-run frames against starter Ken Heppner and relief chucker Chick Boice.

In the opening stanza, Mike Derrenbacher was safe on an error, Pete Watzka tripled to deep left center and Greg Rios slammed a double.

Derrenbacher began the third frame uprising with a walk and steal of second. Watzka's double, a bunt hit by Mike Weishaupt and a force play gave the Lions a 4-0 lead.

Narrow the Lead

Schovel got a run back in the third as Heppner singled, Dave Horton reached on an error and scored one out later when he escaped a rundown.

With Boice chucking in the fourth, the losers notched their final two runs on a walk to Ron Valle, a double by Gary VanEtten, a sacrifice and an error. This made it a 6-1 game and Schovel had an uphill battle.

The winners narrowed the count in the fifth with a four run surge. Starter Ted Bream gave up a single to Rick Broberg to ignite the rally.

After a forceout, Scott Miller and Howie Bernard were passed to load the bases. Dave Horton was plunked by a pitch to force in the first run. Paul Giannuzzi was walked to force in another and VanEtten relieved Bream.

Rough Greeting

Boice greeted the new pitcher with a two-run double to narrow the count to a single run, 6-5.

In the sixth, Charlie Manfro walked and was sacrificed to second. Bernard knotted the game with a base knock and Horton followed with another single. Boice was walked intentionally to load the sacks with two outs.

The strategy backfired as George Druttman looped a Texas League double behind first to score two runs and John Eccleston followed with a single to score two more.

Boice had some control trouble in the final inning, loaded the bases on walks. However, he forced Jerry Corrado to hit back to the box to end the game.

Tonight, weather permitting, Schovel will meet the Kingston All-Stars at 8:15. Tuesday's game will match Herzog's against the Lions Club at the same time.

Toledo Sweeps Pair From Wings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio teams of the International League is becoming a little frayed about the edges, and as a consequence the Red Wings' grip on first place is getting less and less secure.

The Red Wings still are 4½ games ahead of Toronto, but if they have indeed forgotten how to cast a spell over Toledo and Columbus, they're in trouble—and recent events are not encouraging for Rochester fans.

Rochester's record is 34-20 over-all, but it's 16-4 against Toledo and Columbus. Against the rest of the league, the Wings are 18-16. What's alarming is that lately, both Toledo and Columbus have begun to hang tough.

Columbus, after dropping its first seven games with the Red Wings, beat them 2-1 last Thursday. Toledo, 0-8 against the Wings, then went to Rochester last Friday and, that night, lost its ninth in succession to the league-leaders before suddenly deciding enough was enough.

Saturday, the Mud Hens beat the Red Wings for the first time, 7-2. And Sunday they added salt to the wound by beating 'em twice, 4-0 and 9-7.

Toronto, which could have gained two full games on the Wings, wasn't up to the task, losing the 10-inning opener of its twin bill with Jacksonville 3-2 before winning the nightcap 2-1, in 12 innings.

Richmond and Buffalo split two Sunday, Richmond taking the first game 5-1 and the Bisons snapping back 4-3, in the eight inning afterpiece. Columbus buried Syracuse more deeply in the cellar by sweeping the Chiefs, 4-2 and 5-3.

Dark's Shell Game Gives Athletics 8-4 Victory

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

When he saw Manager Alvin Dark coming out to the mound, Kansas City pitcher Jim Hunter was disappointed.

When he found himself playing first base, Kansas City pitcher Jim Hunter was amazed.

The managerial shell game occurred in the ninth inning of the Athletics' 8-4 triumph over Detroit Sunday. Dark found his bullpen depleted after 28 innings of doubleheader baseball Saturday and figured he'd better not be too hasty in removing Hunter from the game altogether.

In other American League action Sunday, Chicago swept two from New York 7-3 and 4-0, Washington downed Boston 3-2 in 10 innings, California beat Baltimore 5-3 and Minnesota took Cleveland 4-2.

Hunter was protecting a five-run lead in the ninth, but when, with two out, the Tigers loaded the bases, Dark brought in rookie left-hander Tony Pierce.

"I wanted Pierce to pitch to (Gates) Brown," Dark said, "and have Hunter come back to pitch to (Al) Kaline. I didn't have another right-hander in the bullpen because of that 19-inning game Saturday night."

Musical Chairs

So Dark sent first baseman Ramon Webster to the bench and put the surprised Hunter on first.

"I didn't know what was coming off," said Hunter, who hasn't played first base since high school. "I wanted to finish the game."

As it turned out he did, but at first base, because Pierce struck out Brown and there was no further need for Hunter's pitching arm.

The Tigers' defeat, plus the White Sox double victory, put Chicago in front in the American League by 3½ games. The Sox got great pitching from Gary Peters, who won his ninth game in the opener, limiting the Yanks to five hits, and from Tommy John, who shut out the Yanks on six hits in the finale.

Hank Allen's pinch single with two out in the 10th inning gave Washington its triumph. Batting for Mike Epstein, Allen drove in Bob Saverine, who led off with a walk and moved up on Ed Stroud's sacrifice. Carl Yastrzemski tied the game in the ninth with his 16th homer of the season.

Torments Orioles

Woodie Held continued to torment his ex-teammates in Baltimore, driving in two runs in the first inning of the Angels' victory over the Birds. In four games over the weekend, Held knocked in six runs. The Angels have now won 11 of their last 13 games while the Orioles have lost six of seven.

Tony Oliva returned from two days in a hospital bed just long enough to hit a three-run pinch double in the eighth inning of the Twins' game. Oliva, who ran into a fence Friday, got his hit off reliever Steve Bailey after the Twins scored their first run of the game when Harmon Killebrew walked with the bases loaded.

Houston Rookie Wilson No-Hits Atlanta Braves

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Wilson won't mind passing up another breakfast. . .if it means more champagne before dinner.

Wilson, a 22-year-old Houston rookie, pitched an overpowering, 2-0 no-hitter — first in the National League since 1965 — against the usually potent Atlanta Braves Sunday.

The 6-foot-3 right-hander walked three Braves, but struck out 15 — including five of the last six he faced — in hurling the first no-hitter in the Astrodome. And he did it all on an empty stomach.

"I didn't change one thing today," he said between sips of the bubbly in the chaotic Astros' clubhouse. "Oh, yes, there was one thing. My wife didn't cook breakfast for me. She wasn't feeling good."

Would he skip breakfast before his next start?

"I'll try it one more time and see what happens."

Elsewhere in the NL, St. Louis trimmed San Francisco 4-1 to move past Cincinnati into first place while Los Angeles ouffed the Reds 5-3, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader with the New York Mets, winning 4-3 after losing by the same score in 10 innings.

Wilson, who got a saving assist from third baseman Bob Aspromonte in the sixth inning, walked Denis Menke leading off the eighth, then struck out pinch hitters Rico Carty, Charles Lau and Clete Boyer.

Only Aaron Left

In the ninth, Felipe Alou fouled out to Aspromonte, Tito Francona fanned — and slugging Hank Aaron stood between Wilson and the champagne.

"I consider him one of the best clutchers in the game," Wilson said later.

"I checked the scoreboard to see who they had coming up. I didn't want to face Aaron, but after I walked Menke in the eighth, I knew I'd have to."

Aaron ran the count to 3-2, fouled off the next pitch and then went down swinging.

"He just threw it right past me," Aaron said. "This kid threw as hard as anybody we've faced all year.

"He's the kind of guy that makes me want to retire from the game."

The Astros clipped Phil Niekro for their two runs in the fourth on Sonny Jackson's single, Jim Wynn's double, a single by Rusty Staub and an infield out.

Wilson, who came into the game with a 3-3 record, retired the first 14 batters before walking Menke in the fifth.

With two out in the sixth, Aspromonte made a diving stop of Alou's smash to his left, recovered and threw out the runner while still on his knees.

"Aspro made a great throw," Wilson said. "He actually saved the game."

Attends Institute

Mrs. Arthur W. Hazenbush, president of the Board of Directors of The Children's Home of Kingston, announced today that Lawrence B. Siewers, executive director of the Home, had participated in The Child Welfare Executive Institute on Administration held in Philadelphia last week.

The Institute was offered jointly by the School of Social Work and the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania. Its purpose was to develop and strengthen knowledge of administration and administrative practices in child welfare agencies. It was sponsored by The Child Welfare League of America and The Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Seeks GOP Spot On Saugerties Ballot in Fall

WILLIAM D. BRINNIER

A Saugerties attorney, William D. Brinnier, is one of the four candidates for County Legislature from District 1 in Saugerties endorsed by the Town Republican Committee and the Saugerties Republican Club.

With extensive legal, executive, legislative and governmental background, Brinnier has indicated that if designated in Tuesday's Primary he would not seek reelection as Justice of the Peace in the November election.

He stated that "Saugerties has been kind to me and I feel I can in some measure repay that debt by serving as a legislator for Saugerties at the county level."

The position of legislator pays a $2,000 salary, considerably less than Justice of the Peace ($3,500).

Brinnier is a partner in the law firm of Francello & Brinnier of Saugerties.

Admitted to the Bar in 1954, he has served as town justice of the peace since 1957, and served as acting police justice of the Village of Saugerties for several terms.

The third generation lawyer, is the son of Cornelia E. Brinnier and the late Grant M. Brinnier of Saugerties, a former corporation counsel of the village and town. His grandfather, William D. Brinnier, served as mayor of Kingston. A past president of the Ulster County Bar Association, Brinnier is the only Saugerties man ever to attain that post. He has served as director of that association, and is the treasurer of the Saugerties Bar Association.

He is a past president of the Saugerties Lions Club, and is presently chairman of the Saugerties Lions' public glaucoma clinic. He has served as campaign director of the Boy Scouts, a member of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, and is a member of the Saugerties Power Boat Association.

Brinnier is presently serving as Chairman of the Ulster County Civil Service Commission. His law firm has served as counsel to both the Village and Town of Saugerties.

During the term of former District Attorney, Howard C. St. John, Mr. Brinnier served, at times, as deputy District Attorney in Kingston City Court and Justice Court.

ATLANTA,7 Ga. (AP) — A spokesman at the Atlanta office of the Weather Bureau said recently Daylight Saving Time is presenting him problems. "I have three clocks in front of me and they all say different times."

Weather observations are done by Eastern Standard Time but workers arrive and depart on Daylight Saving Time. "When we get here, all our observation data is done on the old regular time," the spokesman said. "It's confusing."

Dodd Case Decision Slated for This Week

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to pass judgment this week on Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, accused of financial misconduct. Dodd's chief defender says he is short of the votes needed to block censure.

The vote on the censure resolution proposed by the Senate ethics Committee is expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said in New Orleans Saturday he was gaining votes but was far short of the majority needed to defeat the resolution.

Long declined to say how many of the potential 100 votes are lined up for Dodd.

Long was to resume today his speech in defense of Dodd, 60, accused of converting $116,083 in political funds to his own use and knowingly double-billing the Senate and private organizations for travel expenses on seven trips.

The Senate will vote separately on the two counts.

Dodd spent the weekend preparing his final plea. He contends he has never profited from holding public office.

The possibility of a filibuster had loomed as the Senate concluded the first week of debate when Long called for a vote Friday on the double - billing charge. This was blocked by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, vice chairman of the ethics committee.

Bennett said there was some feeling that if the double-billing count should be voted down filibuster might be mounted against bringing the other count to a vote. It is regarded as the more serious.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the ethics committee, after spending 14 months investigating Dodd, was entitled to decide which count should be voted on first.

"After all," he said, "it is not just Sen. Dodd who is on trial. The committee is on trial, too."

Dirksen said that when the investigation began there was "a lot of cynical comment around the country about a whitewash."

Under Senate rules the charge involving political funds would be voted on first unless unanimous consent were obtained to reverse the voting order.

"Since the parliamentary advantage is with us, why should we throw it away?" Bennett asked. But he added the committee might go along with voting first on the double - billing count if agreement could be reached fixing a time for voting on the other charge.

Regardless of the outcome, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield believes the Senate must enact a code of ethics this year.

Mansfield said that after the Dodd case is over, he will seek establishment of clear rules of conduct. He added in an interview that this should be the next order of business for the ethics committee.

Palenville Accident Injures Four

A two-car collision on Route 23A east of Malden Avenue, Palenville, at 1 a. m. Sunday, resulted in injuries to four persons and a charge lodged against one of the drivers, accusing him of driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

According to Trooper D. N. Perry of Leeds, Russel R. Hiatt, 21, off Jefferson Heights, Catskill, was summoned by Trooper J. J. Zagusky to appear before Justice of the Peace George Carl, Town of Catskill, on the motor vehicle violation.

Trooper Perry said Ira Powell, 39, of Tannersville, was driving west on the Greene County highway and Hiatt was traveling east when the vehicles collided, after the Hiatt vehicle left the pavement, hit guard rails and returned to the highway in the path of the other vehicle.

Powell sustained a sprained right wrist. Others injured were Alvin Becker, 32, Tannersville, who received abrasions of the right knee; Kathryn Powell, 38, bruises of the cheek and Frank Yager, 27, of Tannersville, forehead bruises.

Week June 19-25 Hams to Observe Amateur Radio

This is Amateur Radio Week. To top off the event, radio amateurs throughout the United States and Canada will put on an exhibition of skill, stamina and emergency preparedness this coming weekend, June 24-25.

They move their stations to selected operating sites such as the tops of mountains and open meadows to test emergency preparedness. The event, called Field Day and held annually (except during war years) since 1933, is sponsored by the binational amateur radio organization, The American Relay League. The exercise is held as a contest which lasts 24 continuous hours and finds small groups and clubs on the community level competing against one another.

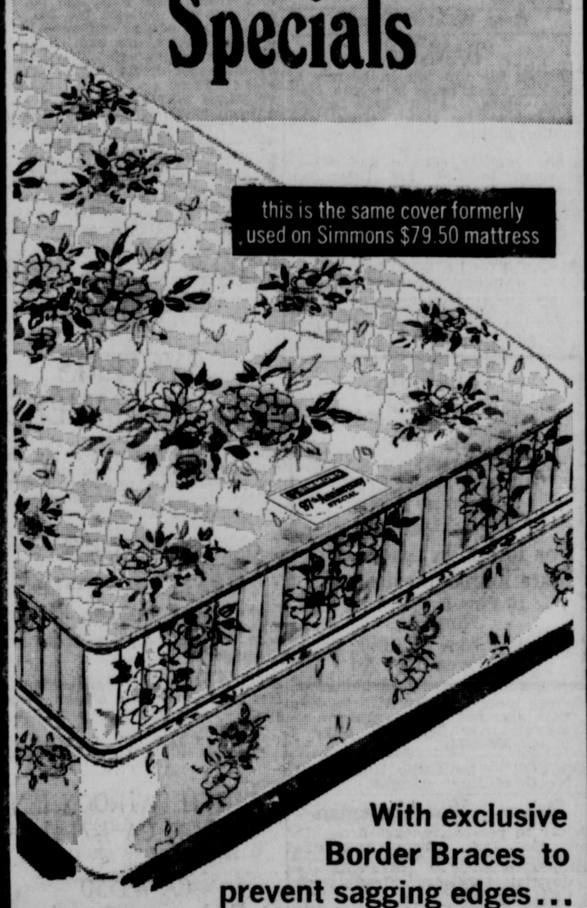

The object of the exercise is to give the hams a chance to test the equipment and procedures which they will use to help such agencies as the Red Cross, civil defense, police and public utilities when normal communications are disrupted by disasters such as floods, fires and hurricanes. Most of the amateurs will operate their equipment from their cars or from gasoline-driven electric generators, just as they would if power should fail during a real emergency.

The radio amateurs' past participation in times of national and local emergencies is a tribute to the training derived from this type of preparation.

The public is cordially invited to visit the Field Day sites, inspect the operations and discuss with the operators their plans for aiding their communities.

In France the price of gas is outrageous.

It's 85 cents a gallon. So when you build a car for a Frenchman, you can't fool around. You either make it economical to run, or you don't make it.

That's why the Renault 10 gives an honest 35 miles on a single gallon of gas. And without sticking you in the slow lane all the time either. (It'll jump up to 84 m.p.h. any time you want.)

You can get all this economy for an outrageously low price—

King Asks Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Carleton J. King, R-N.Y., proposed today that the Tariff Commission investigate factors affecting competition bewween domestic and imported leather products.

He said an investigation would almost surely show that leather products are being imported in such increased quantities as to cause or threaten serious injury to the domestic industry.

King's district includes Fulton County, where leather gloves have been produced since late in the last century.

Plan for Film Discloses Bold Relief Fund

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jules Stein confessed to the press conference that he hadn't told his wife about the plan he was announcing.

"I promised her after I set up the Eye Institute at UCLA I would take it easy," said the 73-year-old millionaire. But here he was embarking on a huge new project.

At a conference attended by leaders of the film industry last week, Stein disclosed a bold plan to help finance the Motion Picture Relief Fund. Universal Pictures will film a major movie with the cooperation of the guilds and unions, and all of the profits will go to the fund, which has been conducting a $40-million drive for building an endowment.

"I feel good about our chances to reach our $40-million goal," declared Gregory Peck, chairman of the fund drive committee.

"Our thanks will go to Mr. Stein, a creative philanthropist."

Stein is the eye doctor from South Bend, Ind., whose sideline of booking dance bands led to his creation of the Music Corp. of America. He powered the company to top rank as an agency for film stars, then became a film industry power by taking over Universal Studio. He has a faculty for making money for charity, as well as MCA.

"I felt after speaking to Greg Peck that there might be a simple way to produce a large amount of money for the relief fund," Stein explained. "We had done it before in setting up the films 'Stage Door Canteen' and 'Hollywood Canteen.' The productions raised millions of dollars for use in entertaining servicemen during World War II."

His new plan would also be an all-star movie. The budget would be a minimum of $3.75 million — "but it might be two or three times that amount if we felt the film warranted it." The aim it at a roadshow movie of two to three hours in length, and Stein mentioned that the story line might be like "Around the World in 80 Days" or "If I Had a Million," both of them episodic with a myriad of stars.

In accepting Stein's services as leader of the proposed movie, fund President George Bagnall told him: "I'm sure this is one activity your wife will give her approval for.'

Ulster Fire Police Elect

The Ulster County Fire Police Association has elected five new officers at their annual meeting recently.

Elected were John Sahloff, president; Thomas Dawes, vice-president; Edmond Schoonmaker, secretary; Walter Pilz, treasurer and Al Lasher, financial secretary.

The Modena Fire Company hosted the event which featured two members of the U. S. Air Force from Stewart Air Force Base, Master Sergeant James P. Morgan, superintendent of Security Police and Technical Sgt. Howard Gieselman training NCO at the installation.

Introduced by President Kenneth Dimsey, Sgt. Morgan showed a color film on U. S. Air Force participation in the Vietnam war depicting the many conditions confronting the fighting forces in Vietnam and the use of specific types aircraft used in varied combat situations.

Morgan also stressed the importance of Fire Police in controlling airplane crash areas.

The new president closed the meeting after which refreshments were served by the Modena Fire Company.

Plebe—I've added those figures ten times, sir.

Prof—Good boy.

Plebe—And here's the ten answers.

* * *

You tell 'em Crystal,
You're on the watch.

* * *

She, this woman in the cream Continental, was arrested for making an "O" turn. It started out to be a "U" turn, she said, but she changed her mind.

* * *

Teacher — Johnny, can you tell me what a waffle is?

Johnny — Yes'm, it's a pancake with a non-skid tread.

* * *

Many a girl will run from a mouse and pet a wolf.

* * *

Mrs. Black—Does your son play on the piano?

Mrs. Brown—No; he can't climb that high yet.

* * *

It's quite a puzzle to figure out who "popular prices" are popular with.

* * *

Minister (just before the responsive reading) — Will the lady who always arrives at the still waters while the rest of us are in the green pastures please wait for us this time?

* * *

Man is neither entirely good nor completely bad; he is born with instincts and capabilities. Society, far from depriving him, as Rousseau asserts, improves him, makes him better; but self-interest also develops his evil tendencies.

* * *

Would you be afraid to sell your parrot to the town gossip?

* * *

Grandpa—My little man, you shouldn't say, I ain't goin. You should say, 'I am not going.' 'He is not going,' 'They are not going,' 'We are not going,' 'You are not going.'

Little Johnny—Ain't nobody going?

Why We Say--

SOMETIMES: Doves have long been symbols of peace and peaceful marriages. But although doves seldom fight with other birds, they do fight among themselves over food . . . so it seems that even doves don't always marry happily.

Vols Pledge Aid in Area

Following a meeting of its executive committee Sunday, the Bloomington Fire Company, Inc. announced that it would provide fire protection to the East Fire Protection District of the Village of Rosendale until such time as a new contract can be negotiated between Active Hose Co. No. 1 and the Town of Rosendale.

In making the announcement, Charles Peterson, president, said that Bloomington's action was motivated for no other reason except that volunteer firemen have a moral obligation to provide protection to life and property whenever and wherever they are able, and to the best of their ability.

Peterson further noted that Bloomington's decision to provide fire protection was in no way to be construed as a desire to enter the current dispute existing between the Rosendale town board, the Rosendale village board, and Active Hose Co. No. 1.

Peterson mentioned that Bloomington is in no way being reimbursed for covering the East Protection District. The coverage is being done free of charge.

The East District involves Creek Locks Road from the Thruway overpass to the village line, and Route 32 from Maple Hill to the village line. Any resident of this area requiring the services of the fire department until further notice is asked to dial 331-1272, the Bloomington Fire Department emergency number, and to give their name and exact location.

In a similar statement, Peter Zegel, commissioner of the High Falls Fire Department, informed Supervisor Gerard DeFelicis that for the period until Aug. 7 or until negotiations are completed the High Falls volunteers will protect the West District of the Township of Rosendale which included portions of Mountain Road and some wooded area in that section.

Dental Clinic

Dr. Vernon B. Link, commissioner of health of Ulster County, announces a series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages four and five, which will be conducted at the Town Clerk's Office, Main St., Rosendale, on June 29 and 30.

Children participating in these clinics will have their teeth inspected, cleaned and will have an opportunity to participate in the program of decay prevention.

Appointments for those interested may be made by calling Stone Ridge Health Center, 9-10 a.m. and 4-5 p.m.

Rains Prove Beneficial to State Crops

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Heavy rains in scattered areas of New York State over the weekend proved beneficial to crops, delayed this year by cold weather and drought in some sections.

Up to three inches of rain fell in some spots during severe thunderstorms Saturday and Sunday. Damage to some crops, especially hay and winter wheat, was reported in many areas.

The State Agriculture Department reported Saturday that cherry and peach yields had been hit by frost last month, especially the peach crop in the Hudson Valley. The peach yield is expected to fall off statewide by about 56 per cent this year—to 10 million pounds.

Apples suffered little frost damage but the cold weather has resulted in the latest blooming since 1956, the department said.

The wet, cool weather in May also resulted in late planting of many crops, causing them to be about two weeks behind normal.

While the drought that has affected the eastern part of the state for five years has abated, the western section is new experiencing a slight water deficiency, the department said.

Milk production in May was 981 pounds, a five per cent decrease from May last year. Cheese and butter production increased from May 1966, the Department said.

Rain Triggers Albany Slide, Hits Synagogue

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Severe thunderstorms and rains slashed into the Albany area Saturday and Sunday, causing a landslide that smashed through a synagogue and power failures that left several hundred homes darkened.

The rain, up to three inches in some areas, made a sea of mud of a hill behind the Congregation Sons of Abraham Synagogue. The mud slid down, crashed through two heavy doors in the 2-year-old structure and piled up in the sanctuary and other parts of the building.

Officials estimated damage at $20,000 to $30,000. Members of the synagogue began removing the slime from the building. Rabbi Samuel Blinder said it would be at least two weeks before the synagogue could be used.

About three inches of rain was reported in West Sand Lake, east of Albany. Nearly two inches were measured in Albany and minor flooding occurred in several spots.

Several hundred homes were without power as a result of lightning striking transformers.

WEATHER FORECAST—Tonight rain is forecast for southern New England, northern Plains, southern Plateau and Florida. It will be warmer in the Midwest and cooler in the northern Plains and middle Atlantic coast. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Milk Marketers Charged With Shorting Orders

NEW YORK (AP) — The city markets commissioner will hold hearings Wednesday on charges that a Queens milk bottler and a Queens milk distributor cheated customers by selling only partially full containers of milk.

Commissioner Gerard M. Weisberg said Sunday that 36 three-gallon milk containers were found to be short from 1 to 2½ quarts each. He said a delivery that should have contained 108 gallons was 15.2 gallons short.

Thirty-seven violation notices were issued by department inspectors who were investigating on the basis of a complaint from two Queens citizens.

Thirty-six of the notices were issued against the bottler and pasteurizer, Silverorest Farms, Inc.

The company is at 80-22 Caldwell Ave., Queens.

The other violation was charged was against the distributor, the M. H. Renken Dairy Co.

That firm is at 155-15 South Road, Jamaica, Queens.
